of Mayor Fathers
Filed Late Today

Petitions signed by 927 electors of the city of Janesville demanding the recall of Mayor James A. Fathers and a special election at which to elect his successor, were filed at the office of the city clerk, J. P. Hammarlund late this afternoon.

The charges against Mr. Fathers were of the same general character as those against Councilman Cummings in the petitions filed on Saturday. The reading was nearly identical. Most of the men who signed the petition against Cummings also signed the lists filed this afternoon. Messrs. Fisher Sykes, and Kennedy presented the papers for filing.

LEGISLATURE IS BUSY

Many Measures Introduced in Both Houses and Other Business Transacted.

Madison, Jan. 28.—A decision in the injunction proceedings brought by Commissioner of Insurance Herman L. Ekern against Gov. F. E. McGovern and others in the circuit court of Dane county, will not be decided for several days.

At the conclusion of the arguments this afternoon Mr. Butler asked for four days in which to prepare a brief and file it. Attorneys Aylward and Olbrich for Mr. Ekern, asked for time to present their other evidence.

The argument of Butler was centered about the point that the governor had not acted arbitrarily in removing the insurance commissioner. He maintained throughout that to issue an injunction against Anderson who held a prima facie title to the office, would be to reverse at least three decisions of the Wisconsin supreme court.

Suspension of the rules was presented this morning in a resolution which, if passed, will give the elections committee of the assembly power to summon witnesses and to make a thorough investigation of the Smith-O'Day contest case in all its phases. Assemblyman Mahon, as chairman of the committee, offered the resolution and explained the attorney general had given an opinion that the legislature had the power to make an investigation of this case and to go beyond the record and obtain the real facts.

Assemblyman Roessler objected to the resolution being passed under suspension of the rules and declared he believed the measure should take its regular order on the calendar. By a vote of 52 to 34 the democrats prevented the suspension of the rules. The resolution now goes to the revision committee.

The initiative and referendum constitutional amendment resolution was advanced to a third reading almost without objection.

In the senate, Senator Smith introduced a joint resolution relating to the liquor traffic. It provides for a joint legislative committee of five to investigate the best methods of public ownership of the traffic.

Measure by Three Votes After Stormy Session.

St. Paul, Jan. 28.—By vote of 23 to 30 the Minnesota state senate today rejected the bill of Senator O. O. Sager proposing a constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote. During the speech of Senator Hackney against the measure there was hissing from women in the gallery, but this was discontinued when Senator G. H. Sullivan made a motion that the gallery be cleared if the disturbance occurred. Bills were introduced in the house providing that 50 per cent of all liquor license fees shall go to the state hospital fund for inebriates, requiring three days notice before marriage licenses may be used, prohibiting pools, trusts and monopolies of any kind under penalty of one to five years in prison and a $500 to $5,000 fine for both.

FOUR SUFFRAGETTES
ARE SENT TO JAIL

Mrs. Despard, Militant Leader of London Women, Among Those Who Got 14 Day Terms.

London, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Despard, a prominent leader of the militant suffragettes and two of her companions were sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment today on the charge of resisting the police in the execution of their duty when they dispersed a meeting in Trafalgar Square last evening. Mrs. Despard who is a sister of the famous cavalry general Sir John French, was offered the option of paying a fine of $10, but she refused to accept this and was sent to jail.

A fourth suffragette who was among those arrested last night was sent to prison for seven days.

Mrs. Despard addressing the magistrate after being sentenced said that she would probably repeat her offense when she was released.

Some sympathizers in court who made a demonstration when sentence was pronounced were ejected by the attendants.

The suffragettes lost no time today opening the militant campaign in Dublin. They made a concerted attack at noon on the windows of Dublin castle, a number of which were smashed. Three suffragists were arrested. In London they displayed great vigor. "General" Mrs. Drummond sent an ultimatum today to David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, after he had refused at her request to receive a deputation of women on the ground that he had another engagement. She wrote:

"I and other members of the deputation intend to wait upon you in the house of commons at 8 o'clock this evening. We trust you will make the necessary arrangements to receive us."

In Ireland. Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 28.—Three suffragettes, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Cousins and Mrs. Connery, who were arrested this morning on the charge of breaking fifteen panes of glass in the windows of Dublin castle, were sentenced by the police magistrate each to a month at hard labor.

SALOON-KEEPER IS

Milwaukee Liquor Dealer Dies When
Two Men Try to Break Into Place of Business.

Milwaukee, Jan. 28.—"Frightened to death" was the verdict today in the death of William Youngquist, saloon-keeper, near the city limits, who died suddenly last night while his son-in-law, Henry Koelpin, and another man, Charles Showman, were attempting to get into the place. The two men, it is said, ordered Youngquist to let them in so that they "could clean up the place."

When Youngquist refused a gun was fired. Youngquist fell to the floor dead, and when his wife told the woman seated on the floor with the head of her dead husband in her lap, and early today he arrested the two men, Koelpin in a saloon near the scene of the tragedy, and Showman at Hale's Corners. They are held pending an investigation. The trouble is said to have been the result of Koelpin's arrest recently for failure to pay alimony to his divorced wife.

It is charged that the theft occurred while Lieut. Weir and his wife were occupying the Cecil apartment during the latter's temporary absence. Captain Cecil is in Washington, where he was summoned to be presented with a medal of honor for gallantry in the Philippines.

LEGISLATIVE GRIST
DAILY INCREASING
AS BILLS PILE UP

Wisconsin Law-makers Will Have Large Amount of Legislation for Consideration.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—A simple amendment offered to the general drainage law in the form of a bill presented by Assemblyman Carl Hansen today radically change the drainage system of Wisconsin. It provides that the cost of drainage shall be apportioned by the supervisors upon the several tracts of land drained.

The bill provides that the present provisions of the general drainage law be made applicable to "one or more persons whose lands are subject to overflow and damages by surface water flowing from the lands of other persons." It is claimed that this general provision will give a greater scope of the drainage law and will bring many under its provisions for damages, who now escape.

Assemblyman Hansen also introduced a bill giving the board of police and fire commissioners in cities the first class authority to organize and supervise the fire and police departments of the city; discharge and fix the salaries of all firemen; prescribe rules and regulations, and contract for the purchase of all necessary apparatus and supplies. The amount of money needed to operate the police and fire departments is to be included in the common council in the annual budget "to be raised by a tax called the city fire and police tax which shall be collected the same as other taxes."

Handling of Explosives. From the provisions of another bill introduced in the assembly this morning by Mr. Hansen it is evident that he believes people should handle nitro glycerine, dynamite, gunpowder, blasting powder and giant powder with a little more care. Mr. Hansen declared today that there was a recent dynamite explosion in Manitowish county that did damage for miles around and the remains of the owner of the dynamite "would scarcely fill a cigar box." His bill provides that any person buying any of these explosives in excess of five pounds shall obtain a license from the proper authorities of the city, village or town. The license shall not be issued until the method of storage has been approved by the mayor, chief of the fire department or chairman of the town. The building in which the explosives are stored shall be plainly marked "EXPLOSIVES." There are stringent provisions against storing it in cities or close to other buildings. A fine of $100 may be imposed for violations of the act.

Socialist Bills Up. The social democratic group in the assembly offered bills this morning which, if enacted, will make important changes in the present laws governing elections and the rights of labor. They include the following:

Prohibiting the issuance of any restraining act or injunction by any court in Wisconsin in any case between employer and employee, or between employer and persons seeking employment, unless to prevent irreparable injury to the party making the application; and prohibiting restraining orders in labor troubles.

Permitting the creation of a municipal telephone system in cities, towns and villages, however incorporated, upon a favorable vote of the people.

Providing for the recall of judges after having served six months, upon petition of 25 percent of the votes cast at the last judgeship election, provides that a general statement of causes for recall, not to contain more than 200 words, shall be filed.

Authorizing cities to do public work or building directly without the intervention of a formal contract with the city council, upon a two-thirds vote thereof, may authorize the board or commissioner of public works to go ahead with the work. Relating to non-partisan nominations and elections in cities so as to provide for a party nomination while omitting the requirement for a party designation. Bill allows the party to use the party name on the ballot and still preserves the majority election.

Providing for the interpellation of commissions and heads of certain state departments. Requires them to (Continued on page 3)

BOY BANDITS FOUND
AFTER HARD FIGHT

Attempted to Hold Up Police Telegraph Operator and One is Killed in Contest.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 28.—A gang of desperate boy bandits was broken up today, the police believe, by the killing of Peter Moore, and the capture of his brother, Albert, and Eli Ackerman. Peter was shot and fatally wounded by Clarence McSweeney, a police telegraph operator whom he tried to hold up, and died later in a hospital. His death and confession led to the arrests and revealed the fact that the boys, whose ages average 18 years, had committed more than a score of hold-ups. Ruth Ackerman, 18 years old, sister of the boy arrested, and sweetheart of Albert Moore, visited the police station to see the boys. McSweeney, who is a cripple, was slightly wounded in the battle.

ARIZONA MESSENGER IS FINALLY LOCATED

Bearer of Electoral Vote From Southwestern State is Found After A Long Search.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Wilfred T. Webb, official messenger bearing the electoral college vote for president from Arizona, who was reported from Washington last night as missing, was said today to be a guest in a downtown hotel in this city, where he expected to spend several days attending to private business.

According to a dispatch from the national capitol all the other states had delivered their votes yesterday and for a time some uneasiness was felt concerning the Arizona messenger. The senate adjourned without passing on Mr. Webb's bill for mileage which amounts to approximately $600. If the rule with reference to mileage bills is strictly adhered to, Mr. Webb's bill will probably cost him that amount, it is said, as the law required the votes to be delivered at Washington before this date, in order to permit the messengers to receive compensation.

Mr. Webb, the missing Arizona messenger appointed to bring the electoral returns of Arizona to Washington today, telegraphed from New York saying he was on his way to Washington. Under the law yesterday was the last day in which the returns could be filed. The statute is, however, elastic. Mr. Webb has made no explanation.

The committee recommends that the proposed federal income tax amendment be not approved by Pennsylvania because as one of the wealthy states she would bear far more than her proper share of the burden. A "blue sky" law and a two and one-half percent tax on anthracite coal are recommended.

SEEKS TO ABOLISH
UNIVERSITY FRATS
IN SWEEPING BILL

High School and Normal School Secret
Organization Included in Measure
Introduced by Assemblyman
Anderson, Rhinelander.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—A bill to abolish fraternities and sororities at the University of Wisconsin, at the eight state normal schools, and in all high schools in Wisconsin receiving state aid, was introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman Douglas Anderson of Rhinelander.

The bill is the outgrowth of an undercurrent of feeling among non-fraternity men at the state university, which has also been manifested in many quarters throughout the state. Recent magazine articles, directed against the fraternity system have contributed to the growth of anti-fraternity sentiment. The principal argument against the societies, it is said, is that they create class prejudices among the students and that secret societies should have no place in public educational institutions of democratic character.

As tentatively drawn, the bill includes high schools "supported in whole or in part by the state." Most such schools share in the state school fund, and all these are included in the proposed proscription. Those who draw a distinction between the high school and the university fraternities claim the high school societies are amenable to the restrictions imposed by home influences, about 95 per cent of their members living at home; while university fraternities are almost entirely removed from such restraint, 90 per cent of their members are living away from their parents while at the Madison institution.

The penalty provided for violation of the act is suspension for one month for the first case, and expulsion upon a second violation. Upon a re-instatement of a suspended member, class or other honors may not be conferred upon the student. Any member of the university staff who shall permit a violation of the act shall be removed by the state superintendent of public instruction, according to the bill.

In the bill the following provision will be made for publicity, as a means of preventing evasion of the law: It will provide that all clubs now in existence or which may be later formed in any institution mentioned in the bill must file with the registrar or other proper filing officer a statement of their name, officers, purposes, cost per member and any other financial arrangements, and the form of government of such clubs, such reports to be made at stated periods.

The text of the bill follows: Sec. 1. All secret orders, chapters, fraternities, sororities, societies and organizations of students of whatever name, or without a name, are hereby abolished and prohibited to exist in the University of Wisconsin, in the state normal schools, and in all other educational institutions supported in whole or in part by the state.

Sec. 2.—Any student of an educational institution, supported in whole or in part by the state, who is discovered to be a member of such an organization as is defined in Sec. 1, shall be suspended for at least one month, and shall be expelled for a subsequent violation of the provisions of this section.

Sec. 3.—No student in the university, or in any other educational institution supported in whole or in part by the state, who is discovered to be a member of any such organization shall, upon reinstatement, be eligible to receive any class honor or to compete or contend for any prize or medal, offered by his respective school, or by any association or individual, or to represent the institution in any contest whatsoever.

Sec. 4.—Any student who is a member of any of the orders, chapters, fraternities, sororities, societies or organizations aforesaid may upon entrance to any of the institutions supported in whole or in part by the state, file with the superintendent, president, or principal, as the case may be, an agreement in writing that he will not, during his attendance, at said school, affiliate with the same, nor attend their meetings, nor in any wise contribute any dues or donations to them, and thereafter so long as such agreement is complied with in good faith, such student shall not be subjected to the restrictions created by this section.

Sec. 5.—Any member of a faculty or other officer of instruction or administration of an educational institution, supported in whole or in part by the state, who shall knowingly permit of any violation of this act, or shall fail or refuse to take proper steps to enforce this act, shall be removed from such position by the state superintendent of public instruction.

Sec. 6.—No honorary organization, whose membership is selected by the faculty as a reward for scholastic merit shall be included in the provisions of this act.

Sec. 7.—This act shall be in force and take effect from and after September 1, 1914.

Charley Doolin, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, is rubbing his eyes, wondering if he's asleep or awake. "Is it possible that I'm to be a real boss?" he is heard muttering to himself every now and again. The reason for this strange course is that William H. Locke has told him that he's to handle the players as he sees fit, and be manager in fact as well as in name. It seems almost too good to be true to Charley, who feared Locke might fogalize him.

Football is far more scientific than baseball, according to J. W. Heisman, a famous southern coach. In a baseball game, Heisman points out, the offensive team can have at the most only four men in action at one time—the batter and three base runners. All must run in a given direction and a given distance. The offensive team in football has 11 men in action, each a berth at first, for Jake will certainly have the right to run in any direction.

GANDIL'S A STAR; HIS PLUCK DID IT

The rise of "Chick" Gandil, the phosphorescent first basemen of the Washington club, whose sensational work both on the field and with the stick was one of the salient features of the American league's play last season, proves once again that pluck and perseverance can accomplish wonders. When Gandil left the Coast league a few years ago to cast his lot with a big league club there were plenty of prominent persons who said he never would stick in fast company. He couldn't hit a curved ball and he wasn't much in the field. Gandil lost out at first, but perseverance and pluck have finally made him one of the big stars of the national game.

and there is no distance rule. In defense he points out that usually only one baseball player is in action at a time.

Joe Tinker says it's better for the Reds that Roger Bresnahan signed with the Cubs instead of the Cincinnati team. "Roger signed with the Cubs because he doesn't like to work," says Tinker. "He knows he will get into the game only when Jimmy Archer is hurt. He caught for the Cardinals last season only when he had to."

Charles Ledoux, the champion bantamweight of France is coming back to this country and is due to arrive February 5. He hopes to find an American manager. He has not engaged in any fights at home since his recent sojourn in America.

If there ever was a sore and disgruntled bunch of people, anywhere they are in Cleveland right now. They are the fight fans of that town, who are cursing because Mayor Baker has put the kibosh on fighting in the Sixth City. Cleveland fight fans have to go outside the city now when they want to see a good bout. They regard this as a real hardship.

Manager Jake Stahl says he intends to play first base for his Boston Red Sox next season unless some one of his recruits beats him out of the job. The wise ones say the recruits might as well give up hope of getting football as a berth at first, for Jake will certainly have the right to run in any direction.

TO RETURN PRIZES SECURED BY THORPE

Confessed Professionalism of Indian Athlete at Olympic Games Makes Action Necessary.

New York, Jan. 28.—Although America still leads all nations as a point winner at the Olympic games notwithstanding the confessed professionalism of James Thorpe, and the consequent loss of the points he made, the American Olympic committee faces today the unhappy duty of returning to Sweden the handsome trophies awarded the Indian while the amateur athletic union must revise all its records.

By virtue of these changes Martin Sheridan, a New York policeman, automatically resumes his title as champion all round athlete of America. Thorpe took the honor from him while competing in New York last Labor day.

Means Investigation. Thorpe, the world's greatest athlete, that he once played professional baseball during the summer of 1909 and 1910 will result in a sweeping investigation of the standing of the several other "college men from the north," who, Thorpe says, played in the same league. James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union announced today.

Mr. Sullivan said he had written Thorpe asking him to name the men thus referred to in his confession.

Declare Records Off. "As soon as we receive Thorpe's reply," Mr. Sullivan said, "we will begin an inquiry into the records of the other men he referred to. If any of them are holders of amateur athletic union records or prizes, we would have no choice but to declare the records off and order the prizes returned. We would, of course, send them to the men who were second in the respective events."

After twelve long years of battle in the big leagues Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants, and Eddie Plank of the Philadelphia Athletics are preparing to resume their onslaught when the 1913 baseball season opens. Regarding Assessors. The bill in the assembly to have the local assessors act as assessors of income is meeting with much disapproval. Nearly every member has received letters asking for the bill's defeat. Concerted action on the part of manufacturers and the Society of Equity to relieve local assessors of all duties and have local assessment done by officials appointed by the state tax commission is indicated in letters received by the state solons. It is claimed that a fairer assessment can be secured by officials having little or no personal interest in affairs of the community assessed.

The following bills were introduced in the assembly last night:

Monday's List. Spoon—Designating shellers and bladders that may be used by fishermen on Green Lake, Green Lake county. Spoon—Permitting set lines in certain inland waters for the taking of catfish, sturgeon, bullheads or suckers caught on hooks set for sturgeons.

Hall, Don C.—Making the members of important state commissions elective.

Hall, Don C.—Eliminating the recognition of parties and party distinctions in elections, and providing for nominations by petition and election by majority vote. "This measure would wipe out all political parties, as such."

Hall, Don C.—Joint resolution fixing the time for the holding of election for judges of the supreme court, circuit courts and for state superintendent of public instruction.

Smith—Appropriating tax to the county of Milwaukee $2500 erroneously paid to the state by forfeited bail. Johnson, L. L.—Providing for a non-resident tuition fee in free high schools.

Roeseler—Repealing the second choice law for majority nominations. The Mary Ann law.

Divorce Counsel. The repeal of the law providing for divorce counsel is sought by a bill introduced in the assembly by Assemblyman E. J. Kane, of La Crosse county. His bill does not attempt to amend or change the legislative enactment passed two years ago, but asks for the complete repeal of the law. Assemblyman William E. Walsh has introduced a bill, which provides if one person gives another a check for a greater amount than he has in the bank, full payment shall not be refused but the bank shall pay upon the check so far as the funds will go, and shall endorse upon the check the amount so paid. Any moneys thereafter deposited shall be immediately applied to this check until the full amount has been paid. Until full payment is completed the check shall be held by the bank and a copy of it with payments endorsed shall be given to the person presenting the check.

A bill to make dock property of rail and steamship companies taxable under the 1911 terminal taxation law came into the legislature today from Assemblyman Carl Hansen of Manitowish. It brings to an issue a long-continued dispute between the companies and Great Lakes ports whether wharf property is included under the terms of the law.

The bill relates "to definitions of property of railroad companies." To be clause in the present law providing for the local taxation of "real estate not adjoining its tracks, stations or terminals, grain elevators used in transferring grain between cars and vessels, coal docks, ore docks, and merchandise docks," is added the following: "Carriage clips, navigable basins and wharves and docks of any kind temporarily leased for purposes other than those for which they were originally constructed." In effect, the bill makes taxes on such properties collectable by the municipality rather than by the state.

Good Time Coming. "Do you know why I whipped you, my son?" "No, but I was going to ask you when I got bigger."

Theater

"THE DIVORCE QUESTION." That the "Divorce Question" by William Anthony McGuire, strikes a most popular chord among the thinking theatre goers cannot be denied. Its powerful teachings strike home. It gives a forceful illustration of the evils that accrue from the lax present day divorce laws. It rings true in every particular, at all times possible and never improbable.

It will do much to enlighten that class who are contemplating a refuge in that mythical haven of happiness—Divorce bringing them a sober realization of the grave consequences entailed by such action and showing a picture faithful in its fidelity to detail, with its accompanying results.

Rowland and Clifford, who are directing the tour of this excellent attraction have secured an admirable cast and provided a scenic display which is fully in keeping with this

MUCH PRAISE GIVEN TO LOCAL FANCIER

Beloit Paper Praises Exhibits of Janesville Chicken Men at Esloit Show.

In the following clipping from an article describing the recent chicken show held at Beloit, it appears that W. H. Ashcraft, of this city, carried off many honors. The report is as follows:

"Some of the largest exhibits shown were those of George Daniels of Manchester, Blossom Poultry Farm of Janesville, and Veale and Son of Belvidere, and W. G. Wilford of Beloit, and each won a large number of the coveted ribbons during the week.

"The largest sale reported was when W. H. Ashcraft, owner of the Blossom Poultry Farm at Janesville, purchased a blue ribbon Rhode Island Red cockerel from W. M. Broese of Rescoe for the neat sum of $50.

"The big silver cup offered by the Beloit Jewellers' club for the grand champion was won by Mr. Ashcraft of the Blossom farm on his fine White Wyandotte cock bird which he purchased some time ago in New York for $150. This bird was shown at the Madison Square Garden show and was awarded the red ribbon.

"Mr. Ashcraft had forty-seven entries at the show and was awarded the same number of ribbons, which showed a fine percentage. The Blossom farm was also awarded the silver cup donated by the association for the best display in Wyandottes of all varieties. Of the forty-seven ribbons awarded Mr. Ashcraft's birds, seventeen were firsts, among these being the blue ribbons for pens of White Wyandottes, White Orpingtons and White Leghorns.

"Thirteen seconds were awarded the Janesville man besides the many thirds and fourths and Mr. Ashcraft was so well pleased with the local association that he joined it and took stock in the corporation.

"The adding of Mr. Ashcraft to the membership was a master stroke as he is one of the largest chicken breeders in the state, having 101 acres which he devotes to the industry."

Why Snow is Warm. Snow is warm by virtue of its light and woolly texture. But it is also warm on account of its whiteness. Had snow been black it would have absorbed the heat of the sun and melted quickly. Instead, it reflects heat, and the reflected heat falls upon bodies above the snow, while the warmth of the earth is preserved beneath it.

Dinner Stories

Alfred was a kind-hearted little boy, but met with an accident during the, though poor and rather ragged, and his teacher was much touched by his asking:

"Captain, will you tell me if a thing can be said to be lost when one knows where it is?"

"Lost where one knows where it is?" said the captain: "why, of course not. How foolish you are, Pat."

"Well, sir," said Pat, "thin yer spyglass is safe, for it's at the bottom of the sea."—London P. I. P.

bringing her every morning a bunch of flowers. Sometimes they were beautiful hothouse blooms, sometimes they were only garden blossoms; but always they were a little faded.

Still, what did that matter. The kind thought that prompted the gift was the thing that counted.

One day the bouquet consisted of orchids, and the teacher was more puzzled than ever to guess how the boy had got them.

"Alfred," said she, "where do you get all these flowers from? You don't steal them, I hope?"

"Steal 'em? Lor, no, mum!" replied Alfred. "My father's a dustman."

Mrs. Alec Tweedle, of the Eugenics Education Society of London, said at a reception in New York:

"Eugenics will save the son from paying for the sins of his father. Eugenics shows us that there has been the escape heretofore from these penalties. In the matter of eugenics it is not as it was with Spence."

"Let bygones be bygones." Spence indignantly said of his old debts, as he started in to make new ones."—Washington Star.

The captain of a merchant vessel gave an Irish seaman his spyglass, of which he was extremely proud, and told him to clean it carefully.

day; light, variable winds.

THE PRINCIPLE INVOLVED.

The one and only important fact connected with the election, which is likely to result from the recall movement, is the principle involved. It is not a question of men, but it is a question of law enforcement, pure and simple, and the issue should be fought out between the three men named by the committee of twelve, representing the recall element, and the present commission, which they seek to remove.

The thought will doubtless suggest itself to some men to run independent, and thus necessitate a primary election, but this should not be considered because it would in no way change results. The men signing the recall petition, and their sympathizers, will vote solidly for the three men selected, while the balance of the vote would be divided between half a dozen other possible candidates, and all of them would be defeated.

Should a primary be held, it would in no way affect the members of the present commission. They could not be a party to it, as they are already nominated. It would simply mean a fight of the recall organization against the field, in which the field would be sure to lose.

The challenge has been made by the men who favor a wide open town, and the only thing to do is to meet the issue squarely, and settle it on its merits.

The suggestion has also been made that it might be well to inject into the campaign the question of license or no license, but this would be equally unwise, because it would prove an element of weakness by dividing the law and order vote.

Let us devote all our energies to settling first the one question which has been forced upon us—namely, "Shall Janesville be a law-abiding city?" This is of supreme importance and personal ambition, and all other issues are insignificant, at the present time.

The principle involved is far-reaching. If the people decide that they want a wide open town, it means a long, stride backwards, from which the city will be slow to recover. It means an increase in population of the most undesirable sort, for it would amount to a standing invitation to law-breakers, gamblers, and disreputable characters to take up their abode with us.

It means throwing down the bars for our own boys and girls, and inviting them to enter the paths of vice—a grave responsibility which every parent should carefully consider.

Janesville is the first city of record to attempt to remove public officials for enforcing the law—a duty which they swore to perform when installed in office.

The proposition seems like a travesty on the face of it. What will the people do with it? The question is broader than church or creed, because it touches our civil life and is a menace to every home in the city.

Law or lawlessness is the only issue, and all efforts to beloud it by subtleties, will be futile. If you want to live in a city where the law is respected, there is only one thing to do, and that is to support the present commission.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS.

That the future has been freely discounted, so far as prospective tariff legislation is concerned, becomes more evident as time advances. The following extract from a late financial letter is suggestive.

"As to the political situation, that would seem to have been fairly discounted. Some of Mr. Wilson's utterances caused, as we all know, considerable disquiet, but judging by his general steadiness of character and his persistent refusal to appeal to popular prejudice, or to play the demagogue, it may be hoped that he will not give the country any further unnecessary shocks. He has made a good governor of New Jersey, and his ideas upon tariff and trusts are well known and fixed.

"The president may have, when he chooses to exert it, a powerful influence upon public opinion; nevertheless, it should be remembered that his functions are chiefly executive and not legislative or judicial. Congress will still make the laws and the courts will continue to interpret them. An important element of disturbance is gradually lessening through the progress of Union Pacific dissolution. The fight over this operation is disappearing and within a short period there is reason to expect a satisfactory readjustment in conformity with the law.

"Much will be gained, it must be borne in mind, when these great corporations have placed themselves beyond the attacks of public opinion and the law. The final effect of bringing these large organizations within the law and compelling them to work under the sanction of an important branch of the government, the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will add to their stability and raise them in the ranks of investments, just as was the case with many public service corporations which at first resisted these restraints. Complacence with what is rational in public demands will really strengthen our railroads as investments, check public hostility and disarm the arguments for government ownership."

Illinois does not seem to have purged itself of jack-potters, stand-patters and the rest of the evils depicted in the Lorimer investigation, after all, judging from the present legislative deadlock.

"Fort Ekern" is the latest term to be used for the state insurance commissioner's office at the state capitol building. To add to the insult to the governor, Ekern still holds firm grasp of the entire situation.

Chicago has an arson trust that the authorities have just broken up and arrested many of the ring leaders. What with auto bandits and arson trusts the Windy City is certainly in a plane all by itself.

Mid-winter political campaigns have become quite the fashion in Janesville. Witness the vote on January 23d last, relative to the adoption of the commission form of government, and now the January campaign on the recall of the present officials.

General Sickles is to be aided by the soldiers of the South whom he kept from victory on many a bloody field during the days of '61. Truly, the days of the rebellion are forgotten, and we are one nation now and forever.

So Janesville is to have a Home Coming and Fourth of July celebration this year, if plans of the Commercial club are carried out as now arranged. Three days of it—the fourth, fifth and sixth of July are designated.

The Turkish ministry has resigned but it does not seem to bring peace any nearer than it was weeks ago. Meanwhile the Balkan allies are making ready for a strenuous campaign if their terms are not agreed to.

England has decided not to even grant the woman's suffrage bill a vote in parliament and consequently the London merchants are boarding up their shop windows again.

For an infant industry, the parcels post seems to have grown wonderfully and thrived on criticism.

Being a Turkish leader is a risk that few insurance firms at the present time would care to write.

Oh, Carrie!
Oh, horrors! Carrie Chapman Catt. Now you have told the women that they should wear trousers like the men.

They'd be emancipated then, you say the girls should stuff the skirt.

Your message is clear-cut and curt. Theirs not to stop and make reply; Theirs not to pause and question why.

But to wear men's pants or glee, Oh, Carrie!

You say the skirts are now so tight. A girl looks like a perfect fright. Of modern skirts you make much sport.

You say they make the girls look short. But please include this in your song; They also make the men look long. To share your views we must decline.

You say the female form divine in trousers would dress simply fine. Oh, Carrie!

Oh, fair, untrammelled suffraget, There's something you've not learned as yet.

All married men know and allow That in most homes wives wear 'em now.

There's not the slightest doubt of that. Ask any of us, Mrs. Catt. For years you have been prone to mock us;

Upon the suffrage stage you knock us; But we never thought that you would shock us.

Oh, Carrie!

When the Baby Cries.

When the baby cries there are only a few things to do.

Following are the things: Lay him on his tummy pat him very gently in the region of the equator.

Feed him some melted milk out of a bottle.

Dangle a jumping-jack in front of his eyes for an hour or two.

Let him pull all of your hair out, one hair at a time.

Give him an olive rub all over.

Get all of his mechanical toys out and wind them up.

Make funny noises for him and let him hang onto your mustaches and turn floppies.

Let him poke his fist in your eye.

After you have tried all of these do the ultimate thing and get up and walk with him for three or four hours. If he is still crying, and he generally is, repeat the entire program.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

UMBRELLAS.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

THE umbrella is a form of portable roof which can be put up at slight expense, but cannot be kept in the same family over two days in succession without clamping it to the hall tree with a Yale lock and a log chain.

The umbrella has never been discovered, however, which is a portable enough to drift around to the original owner.

As it is considered a virtue, rather than a crime, to steal umbrellas in this country, these articles change hands faster than a stout girl in a plain quadrille.

Wherever one of these exchanges takes place, which occurs in about the same ratio as the Chinese birth rate, the owner of a $5 gilt umbrella finds that somebody has stung him with a decayed calico specimen with a hook-nosed handle and several broken ribs. People who carry their initials on pet umbrellas are paid "thou shalt not steal" on the inside of the cover lose them with more accuracy than anybody else.

No one should attempt to hoist an umbrella in a high wind without putting on goggles, as one of the ribs is likely to become impatient and work loose, causing a total eclipse of the eyeball.

Every once in a while some umbrella which has always lived a careful, sedate life will backslide in the rear of a head wind and turn inside out, thereby enabling the owner to get rid of all of his packages and shed profane parols of speech from curb to curb.

Some people have the very disagreeable habit of precipitating head-on collisions with umbrellas by charging through a rain storm with their eyes shut and necks bowed like an insensible buck sheep.

Others take particular pains to carry an umbrella so that the party they are walking with will get his share of the rain and all that was intended for the umbrella.

The greatest delusion of all, however, is the self-opening umbrella, which has to be primed with a tack hammer, while the greatest nuisance is the thoughtful visitor who brings his umbrella into the house and allows it to keep copiously all over a new body Brussels rug.

Rare Rug Art From The Orient:

In our great rug hall on the second floor are gathered some rich treasures of the textile art of the far East. In a magnificent profusion one sees the rich, soft colorings and intricate yet incomparably beautiful designs characteristic of the Mussulman craftsman—a luxurious exposition whose magnificent harmonies of color and pattern awake the connoisseur in Eastern lore to lavish tributes of praise. Here are rugs the art of producing whose soft, shimmering surface is handed down from father to son in some little Persian village—rugs wrought on rude looms, meaning years of labor and rugs whose majestic luxuriance speaks of their source in the bazaars of Constantinople and Teheran. Wonderful, indeed, is the variety of patterns woven upon the soft mellow backgrounds, and fascinating their story; for into most of them is wrought some mystic meaning—historical, religious or biographical. This is the most complete and magnificent showing of Oriental rugs ever brought to Janesville. The perfection of our rug buying organization and the extent of our rug business enables us to offer these gems or rug art very much lower than those which come here through the usual channels.

WILL BRING WESTON HERE TO STAND TRIAL

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER CAPTURED AT BUFFALO YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

MANY CRIMES CHARGED

Alleged That He Committed No Less Than Ten Frauds in Five Different Cities Leaving Janesville.

Like a chapter out of a racy detective story is the account of the embezzler and alleged swindler of John H. Weston, former bookkeeper of the Rock River Woolen Mills, arrested in Buffalo, New York, yesterday afternoon, and held there awaiting the arrival of an officer who will bring him to Janesville to answer to the charge of embezzling from his former employers.

Since Weston by a clever ruse escaped from the custody of a Pinkerton detective in this city on December 8, following his arrest in Milwaukee, he has perpetrated ten alleged swindles in five different cities, the victimized in almost every instance being firms or members of firms that have business relations with the Rock River Woolen Mills.

He has represented himself as a representative of the company as Arthur Jones, the manager of the concern, as a recent heir of $10,000 from his grandmother which he had invested with his former employers, and as recently wedded and on his honeymoon tour. At no time does he seem to have been without a clever pretext for obtaining money, and no one was tried twice. In nearly every instance they succeeded.

Weston, after his escape from Janesville, was first heard from at Chincago, where he is alleged to have forged a check for $25 on Benjamin Hay, a manufacturer of shoddy on December 31. This was done just before he left that city and after he had obtained $35 from Mr. Hay by misrepresentation. Weston told Mr. Hay that he had just returned from Louisville, Kentucky, where he had gone to visit his sister. While there he dined with Mr. Hay at the Weber Cafe. Soon afterward he attempted to borrow $10 from Mr. Weber. The cafe proprietor would not honor his request without reference to the telephone. He made out to be Mr. Hay. Mr. Weber then took his note and gave him the loan, not to discover until some time later that he had been defrauded.

Weston was not satisfied however, and proceeded to tell Mr. Hay on December 20, that he wanted to go to Chicago where he could get all the money he needed from Curtis & Warren the proprietors of the local mill. Mr. Hay accompanied him to the Pennsylvania station where he secured his ticket and reservation for St. Paul. Instead of going to Chicago he became intoxicated, asked Mr. Hay for more money the next day, was refused, forged a check on the firm and left the city.

New York was the next field of Weston's operations. There he called on Kelle & Company, manufacturers of dye stuffs, telling them that he was on his honeymoon trip having recently inherited $10,000 from his grandmother. He had invested a large portion of this inheritance in the Rock River Woolen Mills. Weston produced a sample of dye stuff that he wanted matched and then ordered 100 pounds shipped to the mills for trial.

After being invited out to luncheon by a member of the firm he borrowed $25 from him claiming that he had run a little short, not realizing how much it cost for two to travel. The salesman gave him the money, Weston giving him a receipt in return and promising to repay the loan on his return to Janesville.

Word was received from Jersey City that Weston forged three checks there and pawned his overcoat for drink. When heard of again he had visited Philadelphia. There he called at the home of a salesman of the Howard Brothers Manufacturing Company. The salesman was away but his wife and son invited him to stay in dinner and extended their hospitality freely. He told them how he had lost his wallet and was in an unfortunate predicament. By working on their sympathies he was able to secure from them $15 and a mileage book containing about 100 miles of ticket in it.

Weston then called upon the Dobbins Soap Company, representing himself as A. C. Jones, manager of the local woolen mills. He ordered a large shipment of soap and on the strength of this was able to borrow $50.

Late yesterday morning the firm of Curtis & Warren in Chicago, received a message from Buffalo announcing that Weston was seen there at nine o'clock. They forwarded the information to Chief of Police Appleby who sent a complete description of Weston to Buffalo by telegraph at about two o'clock. At about 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon Chief Appleby received a telegram that Weston had been placed under arrest.

Chief of Police Appleby will leave for Buffalo tomorrow to bring Weston back for trial. The necessary extradition papers will be obtained either late today or early tomorrow morning. Weston is alleged to have embezzled not less than $600 from the local woolen mills, and a reward of $100 had been offered for his capture.

Circulars containing his picture, description and other particulars were mailed to the firms with which the woolen mills have had business dealings and it is believed that these have been instrumental in bringing about his capture.

JANESVILLE WOMAN IS LOSER IN SUIT

Clara Parker, One of Four Appellants, in Matter of Will of Ouden Evenson, Loses Case.

Clara Parker of this city, one of four appellants, in the matter of the last will and testament of Ouden Evenson, deceased, a case appealed from the La Crosse county court to the supreme court, has lost her suit, according to the decision handed down today, which affirmed the findings of the lower court.

The bulk of the testator's property was willed to Norwegian Lutheran societies, and four nieces who had been left trifling sums sought to break the will on the ground that the executor, Rev. Andrew Sagen of La Crosse, financial agent of the synod, had used influence on behalf of the church. Evenson left an estate of $25,000.

This was an appeal from a judgment of the La Crosse county circuit court affirming a judgment of the county court admitting Evenson's will to probate. The contestants were Clara Parker, Janesville, Wis.; Lucy Rust, Eliza Evenson and Josephine Bennett, all of Chicago, nieces of the deceased. These were his nearest relatives.

Among his benefactions were: Church Extension fund of Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran synod, $3,000; Home for Old People, near Stoughton, Wis., owned by synod, $1,000; Martin Luther Orphans' Home near Stoughton, owned by synod, $1,000; the Mission for Seamen, $1,000; Norwegian Lutheran college, Decorah, Ia., $2,000; Lutheran seminary, Hamline, St. Paul, Minn., $2,000; Gale college, Gatesville, Wis., $2,000; H. A. Pratt Academy, Albion, Dane county, $2,000.

The briefs of contestants' counsel alleged the testimony showed the will was in Rev. Mr. Sagen's handwriting, that the deceased could read and write English but little, that the will was executed at a bank in La Crosse which was the depository of the funds of the synod, that by reason of a stroke of paralysis Evenson was in a mental condition that rendered him incompetent to execute his will understandingly, and that the will "was not that of deceased but was procured by the overpowering influence of Sagen so as to destroy the free agency of the testator." Evenson died at West Salem, La Crosse county.

The contestants asked the supreme court to reverse the judgment, with instructions that the will should be denied admission to probate.

MUST RAISE $1,000 FOR Y. M. C. A. FUND BY TOMORROW NIGHT

Large Sum Must Be Raised Within Next Twenty-Four Hours to Insure Remodeling Building.

To raise nearly $1,000 within the next twenty-four hours, or by Wednesday evening, is the problem which confronts the Y. M. C. A. directors in their campaign for funds with which to remodel the present building.

While a large number of the business men have subscribed liberally to the cause there is still a shortage in order to insure the payment of all the pledges. Efforts to collect the money were redoubled today and it was not the intention of those in charge of the work to allow the opportunity for the improvements slip by for want of so small a sum.

The contractors' bids will be opened at the Y. M. C. A. office tomorrow evening. Five local firms are in the race for the work. They are: Van Pool Brothers, Floyd Hard, Emil Pautz, A. Summers and Son, J. A. Denning and Ford and Bos.

Any persons who have not pledged aid to the remodeling fund can do so, either by phoning to the Y. M. C. A. office or to Mr. F. F. Lewis.

Road Committee Meets: F. M. Roach, town of Harmony, and B. D. Treadway, Beloit, members of the county highway committee and Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore of Magnolia, held a meeting at the county clerk's office today. Several representatives of highway machinery companies were present to go over various matters.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—Stable reform, of drawing room etiquette in the presence of the dairy cow, has brought national attention through widely circulated advice to milkers given in the press last week by Malcolm H. Gardner of Delavan, Wis., a noted authority in the dairy industry. From all over the country he has received newspaper clippings and letters with suggestions, many of them amusing.

In a letter he says: "A Chicago newspaper illustration seemed to think that a small boy to hold a milk pail steadily while the cow attached herself to a straw 'might help some,' and that if the milker would not only take off his hat but also carry along a bouquet of flowers and a box of candy, the cow would appreciate the attention. Also he had the idea that the music box with certain soothing melodies might be a very considerable addition to the average stable. On the whole, while I expected to reach some hundreds of thousands of people, through the dairy and

Many Measures Introduced in Both Houses and Other Business Transacted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Madison, Jan. 28.—A decision in the injunction proceedings brought by Commissioner of Insurance Herman L. Ebern against Gov. F. E. McGovern and others in the circuit court of Dane county, will not be decided for several days.

At the conclusion of the arguments this afternoon Mr. Butler asked for four days in which to prepare a brief and file it. Ebern, asked for time to present their other evidence.

The argument of Butler was centered about the point that the governor had not acted arbitrarily in removing the insurance commissioner.

He maintained throughout that to issue an injunction against Anderson who held a prima facie title to the office, would be to reverse at least three decisions of the Wisconsin supreme court.

Suspension of the rules was presented this morning in a resolution which, if passed, will give the elections committee of the assembly power to summon witnesses and to make a thorough investigation of the Smith-O'Day contest case in all its phases. Assemblyman Mahon, as chairman of the committee, offered the resolution and explained the attorney general had given an opinion that the legislature had the power to make an investigation of this case and to go beyond the record and obtain the real facts.

Assemblyman Roessler objected to the resolution being passed under suspension of the rules and declared he believed the measure should take its regular order on the calendar. By a vote of 52 to 34 the democrats prevented the suspension of the rules. The resolution now goes to the resolutions committee.

The initiative and referendum constitutional amendment resolution was advanced to a third reading almost without objection.

In the senate, Senator Smith introduced a joint resolution relating to the liquor traffic. It provides for a joint legislative committee of five to investigate the best methods of public ownership of the traffic.

The loss on the building and contents was estimated to $3,500 according to Fire Chief Driscoll. The insurance on the place approximates $11,000.

After a caucus of republican senators today in which a plan to fight the confirmation of President Taft's held-up nomination was agreed upon, Senator Smoot moved an executive session of the senate with the idea of holding the session as long as a quorum could be kept.

The republicans had promised to remain in their seats to keep the quorum and to repeat the motion every day in the hope of forcing confirmation. The democrats were equally determined to permit no confirmations other than army, navy and diplomatic.

LEGISLATIVE GRIST DAILY INCREASING AS BILLS PILE UP

Wisconsin Law-makers Will Have Large Amount of Legislation for Consideration.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—A simple amendment offered to the general drainage law in the form of a bill presented by Assemblyman Carl Hansen today will radically change the drainage system of Wisconsin if adopted. It provides that the cost of drainage shall be borne by the supervisors upon the several tracts of land drained. The bill provides that the present provisions of the general drainage law be made applicable to "one or more persons whose lands are subject to overflow and damages by surface water flowing from the lands of other persons." It is claimed that this general provision will give a greater scope to the drainage law and will bring many under its provisions for damages, who now escape.

Assemblyman Hansen also introduced a bill giving the board of police and fire commissioners in cities of the first class authority to organize and supervise the fire and police departments of the city; discharge and fix the salaries of all firemen; prescribe rules and regulations, and contract for the purchase of all necessary apparatus and supplies. The amount of money needed to operate the police and fire departments is to be included in the common council in the annual budget to be raised by a tax called the city fire and police tax, which shall be collected the same as other taxes.

Handling of Explosives. From the provisions of another bill introduced in the assembly this morning by Mr. Hansen it is evident that he believes "people should handle nitro glycerine, dynamite, gunpowder, blasting powder and giant powder, with a little more care. Mr. Hansen declared today that there was a recent dynamite explosion in Manitowish county that did damage for miles around and the remains of the owner of the dynamite would scarcely fill a cigar box. His bill provides that any person buying any of these explosives in excess of five pounds shall obtain a license from the proper authorities of the city, village or town. The license shall not be issued until the method of storage has been approved by the mayor, chief of the fire department or chairman of the town. The building in which the explosives are stored shall be plainly marked "EXPLOSIVES." There are stringent provisions against storing it in cities or close to other buildings. A fine of $100 may be imposed for violations of the act.

Socialist Bills Up. The social democratic group in the assembly offered bills this morning which, if enacted, will make important changes in the present laws governing elections and the rights of labor. They include the following:

Forbidding the issuance of any restraining order or injunction by any court in any case between employer and employee or between employer and persons seeking employment, unless to prevent irreparable injury to the party making the application; and prohibiting restraining orders in labor troubles.

Permitting the creation of a municipal telephone system in cities, towns and villages, however incorporated, upon a favorable vote of the people.

Providing for the recall of judges after having served six months, upon petition of 25 percent of the votes cast at the last judgeship election, provides that a general statement of causes for recall, not to contain more than 200 words, shall be filed.

Authorizing cities to do public work or building directly without the intervention of a formal contract, the city council, upon a two-thirds vote thereof, may authorize the board or commissioner of public works to go ahead with the work.

Relating to non-partisan nominations and elections in cities so as to provide for a party nomination while omitting the requirement for a party designation. Bill allows the party to use the party name on the ballot and still preserves the majority election.

Providing for the interpellation of commissions and heads of certain state departments. Requires them to (Continued on page 3)

ARIZONA MESSENGER IS FINALLY LOCATED

Bearer of Electoral Vote From Southwestern State is Found After A Long Search.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Jan. 28.—Wilfred T. Webb, official messenger bearing the electoral college vote for president from Arizona, who was reported from Washington last night as missing, was said today to be a guest in a downtown hotel in this city, where he expected to spend several days at a dispatch to private business. According to a dispatch from the national capital all the other states had delivered their votes yesterday and for a time some uneasiness was felt concerning the Arizona messenger. The senate adjourned without passing on Mr. Webb's bill for mileage which amounts to approximately $600. If the rule with reference to mileage bills is strictly adhered to, Mr. Webb's visit in Chicago will probably cost him that amount, it is said, as the law required the votes to be delivered at Washington on this date, in order to permit the messengers to receive compensation.

W. T. Webb, the missing Arizona messenger appointed to bring the electoral returns of Arizona to Washington today, telegraphed from New York saying he was on his way to Washington. Under the law yesterday was the last day in which the returns could be filed. The statute is, however, elastic. Mr. Webb has made no explanation.

KEYSTONE STATE HAS FILED AN OBJECTION

Opposes National Income Tax Because State is One of Richest in Nation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 28.—A legislative committee which has spent two years considering the revision of the corporation and revenue laws, presented its report today together with twenty bills which the committee recommends be enacted into laws. The most important of the measures is a bill providing for the incorporation, regulation and dissolution of business corporations to take the place of the present law founded upon the act of 1874 and its many amendments and supplements. The committee recommends that the proposed federal income tax amendment be not approved by Pennsylvania because as one of the wealthy states, she would bear far more than her proper share of the burden. A "blue sky" law and a two and one-half per cent tax on anthracite coal are recommended.

SEEKS TO ABOLISH UNIVERSITY FRATS IN SWEEPING BILL

High School and Normal School Secret Organization Included in Measure Introduced by Assemblyman Anderson, Rhinelander.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—A bill to abolish fraternities and sororities at the University of Wisconsin, and in all high schools in Wisconsin, receiving state aid, was introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman Douglas Anderson of Rhinelander. The bill is the outgrowth of an undercurrent of feeling among non-fraternity men at the state university, which has also been manifested in many quarters throughout the state. Recent magazine articles directed against the fraternity system have contributed to the growth of anti-fraternity sentiment. The principal argument against the societies, it is said, is that they create class prejudices among the students; and that secret societies should have no place in public educational institutions of democratic character.

As tentatively drawn the bill includes high schools supported in whole or in part by the state. Most such schools share in the state school fund, and all these are included in the proposed proscription. Those who draw a distinction between the high school and the university fraternities claim the high school societies are amenable to the restrictions imposed by home influences, about 95 per cent of their members living at home; while university fraternities are almost entirely removed from such restraint, 90 per cent of their members are living away from their parents while at the Madison institution.

The penalty provided for violation of the act is suspension for one month for the first case; and expulsion upon a second violation. Upon a reinstatement of a suspended member, class or other honors may not be conferred upon the student. Any member of the university staff who shall permit a violation of the act, shall be removed by the state superintendent of public instruction, according to the bill.

In the bill, which follows, provision will be made for publicity, as a means of preventing evasion of the law. It will provide that all clubs now in existence, or which may be later formed in any institution mentioned in the bill must file with the registrar or other proper filing officer a statement of their name, officers, purposes, cost per member and any other financial arrangements, and the form of government of such clubs, such reports to be made at stated periods.

Sec. 1. All secret orders, chapters, fraternities, sororities, societies and organizations of students of whatever name, or without a name, are hereby abolished and prohibited to exist in the University of Wisconsin, in the state normal schools, and in all other educational institutions supported in whole or in part by the state.

Sec. 2.—Any student of an educational institution supported in whole or in part by the state, who is discovered to be a member of such an organization as is defined in Sec. 1, shall be suspended for at least one month, and shall be expelled for a subsequent violation of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 3.—No student in the university, or in any other educational institution supported in whole or in part by the state, who is discovered to be a member of any such organization shall, upon reinstatement, be eligible to receive any class honor or to compete or contend for any prize or medal, offered by his respective school, or by any association or individual, or to represent the institution in any contest whatsoever.

Sec. 4.—Any student, who is a member of any of the orders, chapters, fraternities, sororities, societies or organizations aforesaid, may, upon entrance to any of the institutions supported in whole or in part by the state, file with the superintendent, president, or principal, as the case may be, an agreement in writing that he will not, during his attendance at said school, affiliate with the same, nor attend their meetings, nor in any wise contribute any dues or donations to them, and thereafter, so long as such agreement is complied with in good faith, such student shall not be subjected to the restrictions created by this section.

Sec. 5.—Any member of a faculty or other officer of instruction or administration of an educational institution, supported in whole or in part by the state, who shall knowingly permit or assist in the violation of this act, or shall fail or refuse to take proper steps to enforce this act, shall be removed from such position by the state superintendent of public instruction.

Sec. 6.—No honorary organization, whose membership is selected by the faculty as a reward for scholastic merit shall be included in the provisions of this act.

Sec. 7.—This act shall be in force and take effect from and after September 1, 1914.

NORTHWESTERN ROAD SAFETY COMMITTEES DO IMPORTANT WORK

Members of Wisconsin Division Safety Organization at Monthly Meeting in Chicago on Monday.

Members of the safety committee of the Wisconsin division—T. J. Stocks, foreman; J. M. Smith and G. White, brand, representing the South Janesville shops; J. Burns, yardmaster; and M. McDermott, boiler-workman—spent yesterday at the Chicago office of the Northwestern road at the regular monthly meeting of the safety committees of all the various divisions. The important topic of discussion yesterday was the matter of trespassing and the number of accidents traceable to this cause.

The Northwestern road has organized its employees most efficiently for the purpose of preventing accidents and for the purpose of reporting in regard to all methods and means of preventing deaths and accidents in the railroad work. The term of "safety first" is applied to the general movement.

During the past fifteen years there has been much discussion in the press and among the people, in the legislatures and Congress on the prevention of accidents by law. It is generally known the railroads are the source of the greatest number of accidents in any one line of business, and it has been estimated that there is one person killed every fifteen minutes and one person injured every five. The interstate commerce commission have shown to the public the casualties of the railroad men and the essential facts of a recent report were published in the Gazette a short time ago. Nearly every railroad man has opinions as to why the accident rate has increased so rapidly. The most important of these are:

No rigidly enforced laws regulating trespassing, and as there have been 50,000 trespassers killed in the last ten years, this reason is evidently a very important one and needs remedy.

The American people are too much inclined to take a chance, no matter what the danger is.

The extreme length of the great American lines makes it hard to exercise the same supervision, as in the shorter foreign lines. Under this head would come all accidents due to poor equipment and roadway.

New and green men, especially foreigners who are to a great extent employed in railroad work, do not understand the thousands of ways, rules and regulations of a great railroad and mistakes are easily made by them.

The first railroad to recognize the great suffering that was caused by every avoidable accident resulting in death to its men, passengers and others, was the Northwestern. Mr. Ralph C. Richards was given the enormous task of organization and directing this movement which is accomplishing more in accident prevention than all other efforts combined. Mr. Richards realized from the start that in order to make this movement a success he must make the men actually engaged in the occupation which swell the death and injury rate, the controlling factor.

Meetings were held on the seventeen divisions of that road, and what was to be undertaken explained to the officers, foremen and all employed in the different phases of railroad work. This is the principal reason why this movement is and will be a success. "It was the men and not the stockholders or division agents who were being killed or injured paying the fearful toll in death and injury."

The men who suffer the most are sure to be the ones most interested and having first hand knowledge of the accidents are best fitted to remedy them. Mr. Richards proved to the laboring men that accident prevention was practical and easily done, actually easier and quicker to prevent an accident than to report it to headquarters. He pointed out that if the little accidents were reduced to minimum, the big ones will take care of themselves and that the exercise of care to prevent accidents was a duty each employee owed to his fellow employees. It is better to be careful than a cripple.

Safety committees were then organized on each division of the road, composed of three division officers and one or more representatives from each class of labor. The same committees were organized in the large terminal yards. In the making of the shop committees there were largely composed of classes of labor, always the men who were doing the work and getting hurt. These committees meet once a month at Chicago, the men on the committee receiving time and expenses for their work at these meetings. This last fact has done away with all delinquency on the part of members who could not afford the expense.

Then the central safety committee was organized, composed of division and general officers, representing all branches of the service, and T. C. Richards was elected chairman of this body. G. U. Dailey was chairman of the Wisconsin division committee. All other members of the committee or divisions, shops and terminals report to this central committee as to the needs of rules, regulations, improvements, and standards. The central committee then acts up on these.

During the first year of this organization, 5,619 different subjects were taken up and acted upon. The details of the road decided to reward a costly banner to the division having the fewest number of accidents in proportion to the number of employees and its train mileage. The central safety committee awarded this banner to the Wisconsin division in 1912 and this division extends through Janesville. Results can be easily seen and all important railroads are following the Northwestern's policy in this accident prevention crusade.

The report of accidents for the last nineteen months show that there were 154 fewer persons killed, a decrease of 27.3 per cent. This report also shows 4,550 fewer persons injured, a decrease of 31.2 per cent. On the report of persons killed or injured during the month of December, 1912, there were 252 killed, less by 27 than the corresponding month of 1911. There were 7,243 injured, over one hundred less than last year, and 2,488 less than December, 1910. On the three divisions that Janesville is connected with there is also a noticeable decrease of accidents.

On the Wisconsin division there was 66 killed and 1,714 injured, a 3.1 per cent increase of 1912; it must be remembered that this division had the lowest rate in 1911. On the Northern Wisconsin division there were twelve deaths and 237 injured, a decrease of twenty-four per cent.

On the Madison division there were 27 killed and 527 injured, a decrease of twenty-three per cent.

The co-operation of the three interested parties—the railroad management, the employees, and the public—is necessary to make transportation in this country as safe as it should be. Besides the reducing of the accidents and movement will save many millions of dollars to the companies and it is bound to bring employer and employee in closer contact, resulting in their closer co-operation. By making "Safety First" the dominant idea in the minds of employees and continually pointing out methods for its attainment the most important work has been accomplished. There will never be a time in railroad history when there will be no accidents, for man is not perfect and machinery falls, as long as there are railroads there will be wrecks. The railroad men have taken the right step and undoubtedly there will be a time that accidents will be reduced to a minimum.

FIREMEN MAY STRIKE ON EASTERN ROADS

Strike Vote Now Being Taken Indicates Serious Conditions in Spite of Efforts to Avert Trouble.

The strike that was threatened by the firemen on all the eastern railroads is likely to take place for the strike vote is now being taken among the 30,000 men affected, and will undoubtedly result in a vote pledging the men to walk out if their demands are not granted by the railroads. Such a strike would seriously injure the traffic and interfere with the operation of the railroads in the eastern states which contain more than one-half of the population of the United States.

The strike vote followed various conferences between railroad managers and the representatives of the men. The railroad officials conceded a reasonable amount to their employees and hope to avert the strike. The officials of the involved roads have tried to compromise with the strike in the following manner.

First—The railroads are prepared to apply to the firemen—and have already communicated this to their committee—the conclusions embodied in the award of the board, which to the satisfaction of the country, recently arbitrated the differences between the locomotive engineers and the railroads. The roads have also signified their willingness to grant certain increases in wages.

Second—The railroads are prepared to arbitrate the present case independently by a board of five or seven men appointed by some such disinterested authorities as Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court, M. A. Knapp, Presiding Judge of the United States Commerce Court, and Dr. C. P. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor, as was done in the engineers' case.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. The fast mail train, No. 56 on the St. Paul line which jumped the track Saturday while going at a rate of sixty miles an hour near Fall River, Wis., resulted in one of the worst wrecks which the St. Paul has had in recent years for it was only good fortune that many people were not seriously injured. The engine was wrecked and every car left the track. The fortunate fact that the train was passing through a shallow cut prevented it from rolling over and causing many deaths among the 150 passengers. Hundreds of feet of track were torn up, fragments of the twisted broken rails being scattered in every direction. The engine on leaving the track had plunged into the wooden uprights of a bridge and completely destroyed the bridge. Engineer McFriede and Fireman Butz were injured and placed in the Columbus hospital. The passengers were very fortunate that they escaped with only a few slight injuries.

SUIT OF BELOIT MAN FILED FOR DAMAGES

P. H. Kull of Line City Wants Five Hundred Dollars Damages From Beloit Traction Company.

P. H. Kull of the city of Beloit, has instituted an action in the circuit court of this county against the Beloit Traction Company, claiming $500 damages. The complaint, signed by Cornelius Buckley, his attorney, was filed in the evening of Oct. 20, 1912. Mr. Kull entered one of the cars of the company, intending to become a passenger; that he tendered to the conductor of the car a legal silver coin of the denomination of fifty cents, for his fare; that the conductor, after looking at the coin, declared it to be counterfeit, and proceeded to abuse him; that the coin mentioned was the only money Mr. Kull had with him at the time, and he so told the conductor; that thereupon the conductor, in a violent and abusive manner, ejected Mr. Kull from the car, struck him with his clenched fist about the face and chest, and in other ways assaulted and beat him.

The Beloit Traction Company, answering this complaint, by Thos. S. Nolan, its attorney, admits that Mr. Kull entered one of the cars of the company at the time mentioned, but denies that the coin presented by him to the conductor, out of which to take his fare, was genuine. The answer also denies that the conductor violently and abusively ejected Mr. Kull from the car. The answer alleges that when Mr. Kull was informed the coin was counterfeit, he refused to give the conductor any more money, and according to the rules, his ejection from the car followed; that the conductor used no more force in putting him off the car than was necessary, in view of the resistance made, and that the company is in no way liable for damages to Mr. Kull.

The action will probably be tried at the next term of the circuit court of this county, which begins the 24th of next month.

THIRTY DAY JAIL TERM FOR PERSISTENT OFFENDER

Ben Dixon, Who Has Been Out of Jail For Little More Than a Week Returned For Another Month.

Ben Dixon, who was released from jail but little more than a week ago where he had served a term for being intoxicated, was arrested again yesterday on the same charge. On his pleading guilty in the municipal court this morning Judge Fifield sentenced him to pay a fine of $15 and costs or go to jail for thirty days. Dixon could not raise the money needed and took the jail term.

Patrick Goodman plead guilty to a similar offense and not being able to pay a fine of $8 and costs was sent to jail for fifteen days. Goodman said he had been working nights at the roundhouse but fell and hurt his back. The judge could not see that this misfortune was the reason for bringing upon himself another.

WOULD AFFECT CITY IF BILL IS PASSED

Assemblyman Rosa of Beloit Would Abolish Fire and Police Commissions in Commission Governed Cities.

The abolition of the board of fire and police commissioners in cities governed by the commission form of government is proposed in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Rosa of Beloit. Judge Rosa says he cannot understand why this was not provided for in the original law and believes that the amendment will be passed without much opposition.

This measure if passed would directly affect Janesville and would make a sweeping change in present conditions.

A GOOD BREAKFAST Some Persons Never Know What it Means.

A good breakfast, a good appetite and good digestion mean everything to the man, woman or child who has anything to do, and wants to get a good start toward doing it.

"A Southern man tells of his wife's 'good breakfast' and also supper, made out of Grape-Nuts and cream. He says:

"I should like to tell you how much good Grape-Nuts has done my wife. After being in poor health for the last 18 years, during part of the time scarcely anything would stay on her stomach long enough to nourish her, finally at the suggestion of a friend she tried Grape-Nuts.

"Now, after about four weeks on this delicious and nutritious food, she has picked up most wonderfully and seems as well as anyone can be. 'Every morning she makes a good breakfast on Grape-Nuts eaten just as it comes from the package, with cream or milk added; and then again the same at supper, and the change in her is wonderful.

"We can't speak too highly of Grape-Nuts as a food after our remarkable experience." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

New Discovery Quickly Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

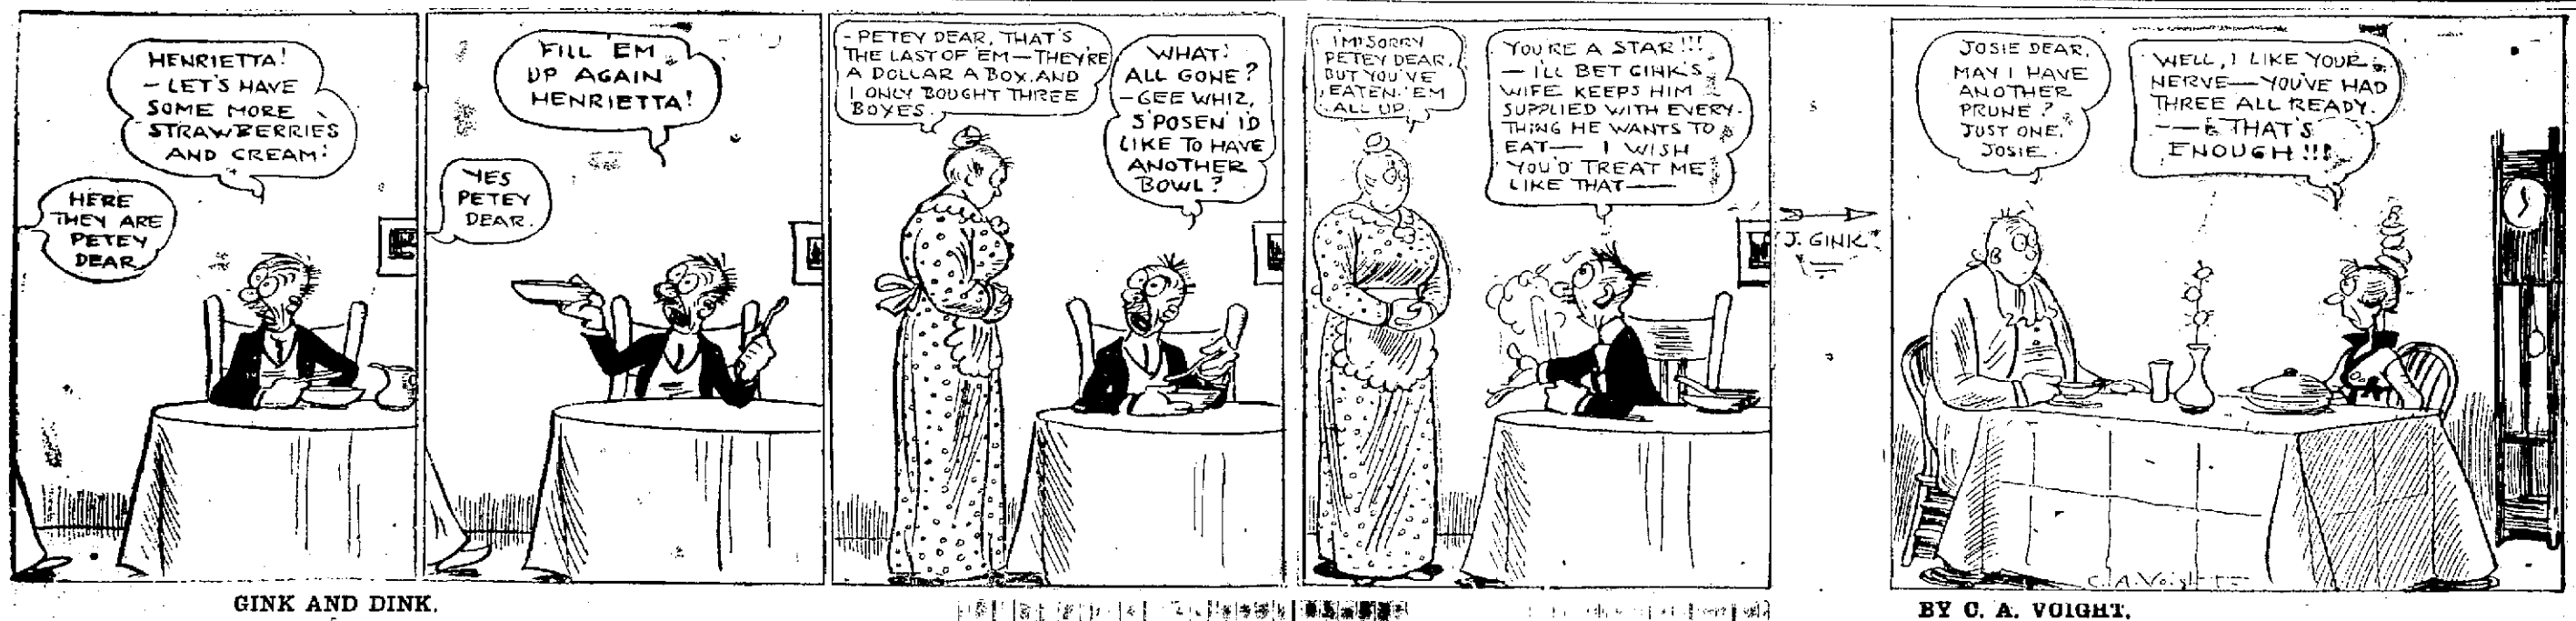

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable urinating bladder or urine disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid, removing the cause and curing the troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood, it neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder; and puts the kidneys and urinary organs in a clean, strong healthy condition.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate long standing cases, while it cures the most severe forms of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism in a surprisingly short time. You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

Charley Dooin, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, is rubbing his eyes, wondering if he's asleep or awake. "Is it possible that I'm to be a real unbossed boss?" he is heard muttering to himself every now and again. The reason for this strange course is that William H. Locke has told him that he's to handle the players as he sees fit, and be manager in fact as well as in name. It seems almost too good to be true to Charley, who feared Locke might fogalize him.

Football is far more scientific than baseball, according to J. W. Heisman, a famous southern coach. In a baseball game, Heisman points out, the offensive team can have at the most only four men in action at one time—the batter and three base runners. All must run in a given direction and a given distance. The offensive team in football has 11 men in action, each at first; for Jake will certainly have the right to run in any direction, cop the job for himself.

GANDIL'S A STAR; HIS PLUCK DID IT

"Chick" Gandil.

The rise of "Chick" Gandil, the photogenic first baseman of the Washington club, whose sensational work both on the field and with the stick was one of the salient features of the American league's play last season, proves once again that pluck and perseverance can accomplish wonders.

When Gandil left the Coast League a few years ago to cast his lot with a big league club there were plenty of prominent persons who said he never would stick in fast company. He couldn't hit a curved ball and he wasn't much in the field. Gandil lost out at first, but perseverance and pluck have finally made him one of the big stars of the national game.

and there is no distance run. In defense he points out that usually only one baseball player is in action at a time.

Joe Tinker says it's better for the Reds that Roger Bresnahan signed with the Cubs instead of the Cincinnati team. "Roger signed with the Cubs because he doesn't like to work," says Tinker. "He knows he will get into the game only when Jimmy Aron is hurt. He caught for the Cardinals last season only when he had to."

Charles Ledoux, the champion bantamweight of France is coming back to this country and is due to arrive February 5. He hopes to find an American manager. He has not engaged in any fights at home since his recent sojourn in America.

If there ever was a sore and disgruntled bunch of people anywhere they are in Cleveland right now. They are the fight fans of that town, who are cussing because Mayor Baker has put the kibosh on fighting in the Sixth City. Cleveland fight fans have to go outside the city now when they want to see a good bout. They regard this as a real hardship.

Manager Jake Stahl says he intends to play first base for his Boston Red Sox next season unless some one of his recruits beats him out of the job. The wise ones say the recruits might as well give up hope of getting outside the city now when they want to see a good bout. They regard this as a real hardship.

TO RETURN PRIZES SECURED BY THORPE

Confessed Professionalism of Indian Athlete at Olympic Games Makes Action Necessary.

New York, Jan. 28.—Although America still leads all nations as a point winner at the Olympic games notwithstanding the confessed professionalism of James Thorpe, and the consequent loss of the points he made, the American Olympic committee faces today the unhappy duty of returning to Sweden the handsome trophies awarded the Indian while the amateur athletic union must revise all its records.

By virtue of these changes Martin Sheridan, a New York policeman, automatically resumes his title as champion all round athlete of America. Thorpe took the honor from him while competing in New York last Labor day.

Means Investigation. The confession of James Thorpe, the world's greatest athlete, that he once played professional baseball during the summer of 1909 and 1910 will result in a sweeping investigation of the standing of the several other "college men from the north," who, Thorpe says, played in the same league, James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union announced today.

Mr. Sullivan said he had written Thorpe asking him to name the men thus referred to in his confession.

Declare Records Off. "As soon as we receive Thorpe's reply," Mr. Sullivan said, "we will begin an inquiry into the records of the other men he referred to. If any of them are holders of amateur athletic union records or prizes, we would have no choice but to declare the records off and order the prizes returned. We would, of course, send them to the men who were second in the respective events."

AFTER TWELVE YEARS OF BATTLE GREAT HURLERS AGAIN PREPARE FOR ONSLAUGHT

Christy Mathewson and Eddie Plank. After twelve long years of battle in the big leagues Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants, and Eddie Plank of the Philadelphia Athletics are preparing to resume their onslaught when the 1913 baseball season opens. Although scribes have sung their swan songs for the past three or four years, Mattie and Eddie still remain in the thickest of the fight, able and effective. They will face the 1913 campaign as the pioneers of latter-day pitchers.

come before the legislature and answer any questions.

Regarding Assessors. The bill in the assembly to have the local assessors act as assessors of income is meeting with much disapproval. Nearly every member has received letters asking for the bill's defeat. Concerted action on the part of manufacturers and the Society of Equity to relieve local assessors of all duties and have local assessment done by officials appointed by the state tax commission is indicated in letters received by the state solons. It is claimed that a fairer assessment can be secured by officials having little or no personal interest in affairs of the community assessed.

The following bills were introduced in the assembly last night:

Monday's List.

Spoor—Designating shelters and blinds that may be used by fishermen on Green Lake, Green Lake county.

Spoor—Permitting set lines in certain inland waters for the taking of catfish, sturgeon, bullheads or suckers caught on hooks set for sturgeon.

Hall, Don C.—Making the members of important state commissions elective.

Hall, Don C.—Eliminating the recognition of parties and party designations in elections, and providing for nominations by petition and elections by majority vote. This measure would wipe out all political parties, as such.

Hall, Don C.—Joint resolution fixing the time for the holding of election for judges of the supreme court, circuit courts and for state superintendent of public instruction.

Smith—Appropriating tax to the county of Milwaukee $950 erroneously paid to the state by forfeited bail.

Johnson, L. L.—Providing for a non-resident tuition fee in free high schools.

Roessler—Repealing the second choice law for majority nominations. The Mary Ann law.

Sessions Last Night. Brief sessions were held in both houses last night. A socialist member withdrew No. 36A, providing that the existence of strikes and lockouts must be stated in advertisements for strikebreakers, it having been found that a law already covers that subject. In the senate a bill to increase the amount of state aid for poultry associations from $1,200 to $3,000 was introduced by Senator Burke, and a bill providing for a deputy game warden to do educational work in fish and game protection and con-

THE "DIVORCE QUESTION."

That the "Divorce Question" by William Anthony McGuire, strikes a most popular chord among the thinking theatre goers cannot be denied. Its powerful teachings strike home. It gives a forceful illustration of the evils that accrue from the lax present day divorce laws. It rings true in every particular, at all times possible and never improbable.

It will do much to enlighten that class who are contemplating a refuge in that mythical haven of happiness—Divorce bringing them a sober realization of the grave consequences attending such action and showing a picture faithful in its fidelity to detail, with its accompanying results.

Eloilo Paper Praises Exhibits of Janesville Chicken Men at Eloilo Show.

In the following clipping from an article describing the recent chicken show held at Eloilo, it appears that W. H. Ashcraft of this city carried off many honors. The report is as follows:

"Some of the largest exhibits shown were those of George Daniels of Manchester, Blossom Poultry Farm of Janesville, and Veale and Son of Belvidere, and W. G. Wilford of Beloit, and each won a large number of the coveted ribbons during the week.

"The largest sale reported was when W. H. Ashcraft, owner of the Blossom Poultry Farm at Janesville, purchased a blue ribbon Rhode Island Red cockerel from W. M. Brees of Roscoe for the neat sum of $50.

"The big silver cup offered by the Beloit Jewellers' club for the grand champion was won by Mr. Ashcraft of the Blossom farm on his fine White Wyandotte cock bird which he purchased some time ago in New York for $150. This bird was shown at the Madison Square Garden show and was awarded the red ribbon.

"Mr. Ashcraft had forty-seven entries at the show and was awarded the same number of ribbons, which showed a fine percentage. The Blossom farm was also awarded the silver cup donated by the association for the best display in Wyandottes of all varieties. Of the forty-seven ribbons awarded Mr. Ashcraft's birds, seventeen were firsts, among these being the blue ribbons for pens of White Wyandottes, White Orpingtons and White Leghorns.

"Thirteen seconds were awarded the Janesville man besides the many thirds and fourths and Mr. Ashcraft was so well pleased with the local association that he joined it and took stock in the corporation.

"The adding of Mr. Ashcraft to the membership was a master stroke as he is one of the largest chicken breeders in the state, having 101 acres which he devotes to the industry."

Why Snow is Warm. Snow is warm by virtue of its light and woolly texture. But it is also warm on account of its whiteness. Had snow been black it would have absorbed the heat of the sun and melted quickly. Instead, it reflects heat, and the reflected heat falls upon bodies above the snow, while the warmth of the earth is preserved beneath it.

Dinner Stories

Alfred was a kind-hearted little boy, though poor and rather ragged, and his teacher was much touched by his asking:

"Captain, will you tell me if a thing can be said to be lost, when one knows where it is?"

"Lost where one knows where it is?" said the captain; "why, of course not. How foolish you are, Pat."

"Well, sir," said Pat, "thin yer syghass is safe for it's at the bottom of the sea."—London P. I. P.

bringing her every morning a bunch of flowers. Sometimes they were beautiful hothouse blooms, sometimes they were only garden blossoms; but always they were a little faded.

"Still, what did that matter. The kind thought that prompted the gift was the thing that counted."

One day the bouquet consisted of orchids, and the teacher was more puzzled than ever to guess how the boy had got them.

"Alfred," said she, "where do you get all these flowers from? You don't steal them, I hope?"

"Steal 'em? Lor, no, mum!" replied Alfred. "My father's a custodian."

Mrs. Alec Tweedle, of the Eugenics Education Society of London, said at a reception in New York:

"Eugenics will save the son from paying for the sins of his father. Eugenics shows us that there has been no escape heretofore from these penalties. In the matter of eugenics it is not as it was with Spence."

WEATHER FORECAST.

Continued fair tonight and Wednesday; light, variable winds.

THE PRINCIPLE INVOLVED.

The one and only important fact connected with the election, which is likely to result from the recall movement, is the principle involved. It is not a question of men, but it is a question of law enforcement, pure and simple, and the issue should be fought out between the three men named by the committee of twelve, representing the recall element, and the present commission, which they seek to remove.

The thought will doubtless suggest itself to some men to run independent and thus necessitate a primary election, but this should not be considered because it would in no way change results. The men signing the recall petition, and their sympathizers, will vote solidly for the three men selected, while the balance of the vote would be divided between half a dozen other possible candidates, and all of them would be defeated.

Should a primary be held, it would in no way affect the members of the present commission. They could not be party to it, as they are already nominated. It would simply mean a fight of the recall organization against the field, in which the field would be sure to lose.

The challenge has been made by the men who favor a wide open town, and the only thing to do is to meet the issue squarely, and settle it on its merits.

The suggestion has also been made that it might be well to inject into the campaign the question of license or no license, but this would be equally unwise, because it would prove an element of weakness by dividing the law and order vote.

Let us devote all our energies to settling first the one question which has been forced upon us—namely, "Shall Janesville be a law-abiding city?" This is of supreme importance. Personal ambition, and all other issues are insignificant, at the present time.

The principle involved is far-reaching. If the people decide that they want a wide open town, it means a long stride backward, from which the city will be slow to recover. It means an increase in population of the most undesirable sort, for it would amount to a standing invitation to law-breakers, gamblers, and disreputable characters to take up their abode with us.

It means throwing down the bars for our own boys and girls, and inviting them to enter the paths of vice—a grave responsibility which every parent should carefully consider.

Janesville is the first city of record to attempt to remove public officials for enforcing the law—a duty which they swore to perform when installed in office.

The proposition seems like a travesty on the face of it. What will the people do with it? The question is broader than church or creed, because it touches our civic life and is a menace to every home in the city.

Law or lawlessness is the only issue, and all efforts to beloud it by subterfuges, will be futile. If you want to live in a city where the law is respected, there is only one thing to do, and that is to support the present commission.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS.

That the future has been freely discounted, so far as prospective tariff legislation is concerned, becomes more evident as time advances. The following extract from a late financial letter is suggestive.

"As to the political situation, that would seem to have been fairly discounted. Some of Mr. Wilson's utterances caused, as we all know, considerable disquiet, but judging by his general steadiness of character and his persistent refusal to appeal to popular prejudice, or to play the demagogue, it may be hoped that he will not give the country any further unnecessary shocks. He has made a good governor of New Jersey, and his ideas upon tariff and trusts are well known and fixed.

"The president may have, when he chooses to exert it, a powerful influence upon public opinion; nevertheless, it should be remembered that his functions are chiefly executive and not legislative or judicial. Congress will still make the laws and the courts will continue to interpret them. An important element of disturbance is gradually lessening through the progress of Union Pacific dissolution. The fight over this operation is disappearing and within a short period there is reason to expect a satisfactory readjustment in conformity with the law.

"Much will be gained, it must be borne in mind, when these great corporations have placed themselves behind the attacks of public opinion and the law. The final effect of bringing these large organizations within the law and compelling them to work under the sanction of an important branch of the government, the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will add to their stability and raise them in the ranks of investments, just as was the case with many public service corporations which at first resisted these restraints. Compliance with what is rational in public demands will really strengthen our railroads as investments, check public hostility and disarm the arguments for government ownership."

Illinois does not seem to have purged itself of jack-potters, stand-patters and the rest of the evils depicted in the Lorimer investigation, after all, judging from the present legislative deadlock.

"Fort Ekern" is the latest term to be used for the state insurance commissioner's office at the state capitol building. To add to the insult to the governor, Ekern still holds firm grasp of the entire situation.

Chicago has an arson trust that the authorities have just broken up and arrested many of the ring leaders. What with auto bandits and arson trusts the Windy City is certainly in a plane all by itself.

Mid-winter political campaigns have become quite the fashion in Janesville. Witness the vote on January 23d last, relative to the adoption of the commission form of government, and now the January campaign on the recall of the present officials.

General Sickles is to be aided by the soldiers of the South whom he kept from victory on many a bloody field during the days of '61. Truly, the days of the rebellion are forgotten, and we are one nation now and forever.

So Janesville is to have a Home Coming and Fourth of July celebration this year, it plans of the Commercial club are carried out as now arranged. Three days of it—the fourth, fifth and sixth of July are designated.

The Turkish ministry has resigned but it does not seem to bring peace any nearer than it was weeks ago. Meanwhile the Balkan allies are making ready for a strenuous campaign if their terms are not agreed to.

England has decided not to even grant the woman's suffrage bill to vote in parliament and consequently the London merchants are boarding up their shop windows again.

For an infant industry, the parcels post seems to have found wonderful and thrived on criticism.

Being a Turkish leader is a risk that few insurance firms at the present time would care to write.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Oh, Carrie! Oh, horrors! Carrie Chapman Catt. They should wear trousers like the men. They'd be emancipated then. You say the girls should stuff the skirt.

Your message is clear-cut and pure. Theirs not to stoop and make reprisals. Theirs not to pause and question why. Theirs not to wear men's pants or die, Oh, Carrie!

You say the girls are now so tight. A girl looks like a perfect fright. Of modern skirts you make much sport. You say they make the girls look short.

But please include this in your song. They also make the men look long. To share your views we must decline. You say the female form divine in trousers would dress simply fine. Oh, Carrie!

Oh, fair, untrammelled suffraget. There's something you've not learned as yet. All married men know and allow. That in most homes wives wear 'em now.

That's not the slightest doubt of it. Ask any of us, Mrs. Catt. For years you have been prone to mock us; Upon the suffrage stage you knock us; But we're not thought that you would shock us. Oh, Carrie!

Caught on the Fly. A federal jury has held the wall-paper trust guiltless of wrong doing. But there are those who will always believe that some of its paper is a crime.

Paris dressmakers say skirts will be tighter. Not unless they are painted on. One way to get even with the food trust is to stop eating. This is one of the very poorest ways.

There is said to be in New York a young man who possesses the sixth sense. New York is the place to use it all right. German aviators are on strike. In aviation evidently everything goes up excepting wages.

Now they say that Buffalo Bill wears a wig, but nobody has the hardihood to start a story to the effect that Col. Roosevelt has false teeth.

Lincoln split rails, but the modern statesman split hairs. T. Jefferson's authorship of the Declaration of Independence is now disputed. Someday, probably, somebody will claim that Joe Bailey of Texas didn't write the constitution.

When the Baby Cries. When the baby cries there are only a few things to do. Following are the things: Lay him on his tummy pat him very gently in the region of the equator.

Feed him some malted milk out of a bottle. Dangle a jumping-jack in front of his eyes for an hour or two. Let him pull all of your hair out, one hair at a time.

Give him an olive rub all over. Get all of his mechanical toys out and wind them up. Make funny noises for him and let him bang onto your mustaches and turn him upside down.

Let him poke his fist in your eye. After you have tried all of these do the ultimate thing and get up and walk with him for three or four hours. If he is still crying, and he

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

UMBRELLAS.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

THE umbrella is a form of portable roof which can be put up at slight expense, but cannot be kept in the same family over two days in succession without clamping it to the hall tree with a Yale lock and a log chain.

The umbrella has never been discovered, however, which is portable enough to drift around to the original owner. As it is considered a virtue, rather than a crime, to steal umbrellas in this country, these articles change hands faster than a stout girl in a plain quadrille. Whenever one of these exchanges takes place, which occurs in about the same ratio as the Chinese birth rate, the owner of a $5 silk umbrella finds that somebody has stung him with a decayed calico specimen with a hook-nosed handle and several broken ribs. People who carve their initials on per umbrellas or paint "thou shalt not steal" on the inside of the cover lose them with more accuracy than anybody else.

No one should attempt to hoist an umbrella in a high wind without patting on goggles as one of the ribs is likely to become impatient and work loose, causing a total eclipse of the eyeball. Every once in a while some umbrella which has always lived a careful, sedate life will backslide in the rear of a head wind and turn inside out, thereby enabling the owner to get rid of all of his packages and shed profane parts of speech from curb to curb.

Some people have the very disagreeable habit of precipitating head-on collisions with umbrellas by charging through a rain storm with their eyes shut and necks bowed like an irascible buck sheep. Others take particular pains to carry an umbrella so that the party they are walking with will get his share of the rain and all that was intended for the umbrella. The greatest delusion of all, however, is the self-opening umbrella, which has to be primed with a rack hammer, while the greatest nuisance is the thoughtful visitor who brings his umbrella into the house and allows it to weep copiously all over a new body Brussels rug.

Rare Rug Art From The Orient:

In our great rug hall on the second floor are gathered some rich treasures of the textile art of the far East. In a magnificent profusion one sees the rich, soft colorings and intricate yet incomparably beautiful designs characteristic of the Mussulman craftsman—a luxurious exposition whose magnificent harmonies of color and pattern awake the connoisseur in Eastern lore to lavish tributes of praise. Here are rugs the art of producing whose soft, shimmering surface is handed down from father to son in some little Persian village—rugs wrought on rude looms, meaning years of labor and rugs whose majestic luxuriance speaks of their source in the bazaars of Constantinople and Teheran. Wonderful, indeed, is the variety of patterns woven upon the soft mellow backgrounds, and fascinating their story; for into most of them is wrought some mystic meaning—historical, religious or biographical. This is the most complete and magnificent showing of Oriental rugs ever brought to Janesville. The perfection of our rug buying organization and the extent of our rug business enables us to offer these gems or rug art very much lower than those which come here through the usual channels.

WILL BRING WESTON HERE TO STAND TRIAL

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER CAPTURED AT BUFFALO YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

MANY CRIMES CHARGED

Alleged That He Committed No Less Than Ten Frauds in Five Different Cities Since Leaving Janesville.

Like a chapter out of a raggy detective story is the account of the escapades and alleged swindles of John H. Weston, former bookkeeper of the Rock River Woolen Mills, arrested in Buffalo, New York, yesterday afternoon, and held there awaiting the arrival of an officer who will bring him to Janesville to answer to the charge of embezzling from his former employers.

Since Weston by a clever ruse escaped from the custody of a Pinkerton detective in this city on December 8, following his arrest in Milwaukee, he has perpetrated ten alleged swindles in five different cities, the victimized in almost every instance being firms or members of firms that have business relations with the Rock River Woolen Mills.

He has represented himself as a representative of the company, as Arthur Jones, the manager of the concern, as a recent heir of $10,000 from his grandmother which he had invested with his former employers, and as recently wedded and on his honeymoon tour. At no time does he seem to have been without a clever pretext for obtaining money, and no one ruse was tried twice. In nearly every instance they succeeded.

Weston, after his escape from Janesville, was first heard of at Cincinnati, where he is alleged to have forged check for $25 from Benjamin Hay, a manufacturer of shoddy, on December 31. This was done just before he left that city and after he had obtained $5 from Mr. Hay by misrepresentation. Weston told Mr. Hay that he had just returned from Louisville, Kentucky, where he had gone to visit his sister. While there he dined with Mr. Hay at the Weber Cafe. Soon after Mr. Hay attempted to borrow $10 from Mr. Weber. The cafe proprietor would not honor his request without reference, so he called up on the telephone someone whom he made out to be Mr. Hay. Mr. Weber then took his note and gave him the loan, not to discover until some time later that he had been defrauded.

Weston was not satisfied however, and proceeded to tell Mr. Hay on December 20, that he wanted to go to Chicago where he could get all the money he needed from Curtis & Warren the proprietors of the local mill. Mr. Hay accompanied him to the Pennsylvania station where he secured his ticket and reservation for a berth. Instead of going to Chicago he became intoxicated, asked Mr. Hay for more money the next day, was refused, forged a check on the firm and left the city.

New York was the next field of Weston's operations. There he called on Kelle & Company, manufacturers of dye stuffs, telling them that he was on his honeymoon trip having recently inherited $10,000 from his grandmother. He had invested a large portion of this inheritance in the Rock River Woolen Mills. Weston produced a sample of dye stuff that he wanted matched and then ordered 100 pounds shipped to the mills for trial.

After being invited out to luncheon by a member of the firm he borrowed $25 from him claiming that he had run a little short, not realizing how much it cost for two to travel. The salesman gave him the money. Weston giving him a receipt in return and promising to repay the loan on his return to Janesville.

Word was received from Jersey City that Weston forged three checks there and pawned his overcoat for drink. When heard of again he had visited Philadelphia. There he called at the home of a salesman of the Howard Brothers Manufacturing Company. The salesman was away but his wife and son invited him to stay to dinner and extended their hospitality freely. He told them how he had lost his coat and was in an unfortunate predicament. By working on their sympathies he was able to secure from them $15 and a mileage book containing about 100 miles of ticket in it.

Weston then called upon the Dobbs Soap Company, representing himself as A. G. Jones, manager of the local woolen mills. He ordered a large shipment of soap and on the strength of this was able to borrow $50.

Late yesterday morning the firm of Curtis & Warren in Chicago, received a message from Buffalo announcing that Weston was being taken to Buffalo. They forwarded the information to Chief of Police Appleby who sent a complete description of Weston to Buffalo by telegraph at about two o'clock. At about 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon Chief Appleby received a telegram that Weston had been placed under arrest.

Chief of Police Appleby will leave for Buffalo tomorrow to bring Weston back for trial. The necessary extradition papers will be obtained either late today or early tomorrow morning. Weston is alleged to have embezzled not less than $600 from the local woolen mills, and a reward of $100 had been offered for his capture. Circulating containing his picture, description, and other particulars were mailed to the firms with which the woolen mills have had business dealings and it is believed that these have been instrumental in bringing about his capture.

JANESVILLE WOMAN IS LOSER IN SUIT

Clara Parker, One of Four Appellants, in Matter of Will of Ouden Evenson, Loses Case.

Clara Parker of this city, one of four appellants, in the matter of the last will and testament of Ouden Evenson, deceased, a case appealed from the La Crosse county court to the supreme court, has lost her suit, according to the decision handed down today, which affirmed the findings of the lower court.

The bulk of the testator's property was willed to Norwegian Lutheran societies, and four nieces who had been left trifling sums sought to break the will on the ground that the executor, Ray Andrew, Sagen of La Crosse, financial agent of the synod, had used influence on behalf of the church. Evenson left an estate of $25,000.

This was an appeal from a judgment of the La Crosse county circuit court affirming a judgment of the county court admitting Evenson's will to probate. The contestants were Clara Parker, Janesville, Wis.; Lucy Rust, Eliza Evenson and Josephine Bennett, all of Chicago, nieces of the deceased. These were his nearest relatives.

Among his beneficiaries were: Church Extension fund of Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran synod, $3,000; Home for Old People, near Stoughton, Wis., owned by synod, $1,000; Martin Luther Orphan's Home near Stoughton, owned by synod, $1,000; the Mission for Seamen, $1,000; Norwegian Lutheran college, Decorah, Ia., $2,000; Lutheran seminary, Hamline, St. Paul, Minn., $2,000; Gale college, Galesville, Wis., $2,000; H. A. Pious Academy, Albion, Dane county, $2,000.

The briefs of contestants' counsel alleged the testimony showed the will was in Rev. Mr. Sagen's handwriting, that the deceased could read and write English but little, that the will was executed at a bank in La Crosse which was the depository of the funds of the synod, that by reason of a stroke of paralysis Evenson was in a mental condition that rendered him incompetent to execute his will understandingly, and that the will "was not that of deceased but was procured by the overpowering influence of Sagen so as to destroy the free agency of the testator." Evenson died at West Salem, La Crosse county.

The contestants asked the supreme court to reverse the judgment, with instructions that the will should be admitted to probate.

MUST RAISE $1,000 FOR Y. M. C. A. FUND BY TOMORROW NIGHT

Large Sum Must Be Raised Within Next Twenty-Four Hours to Insure Remodeling Building.

To raise nearly $1,000 within the next twenty-four hours, or by Wednesday evening, is the problem which confronts the Y. M. C. A. directors in their campaign for funds with which to remodel the present building.

While a large number of the business men have subscribed liberally to the cause there is still a shortage in order to insure the payment of all the pledges. Efforts to collect the money were redoubled today and it was not the intention of those in charge of the work to allow the opportunity for the improvements slip by for want of so small a sum.

The contractors' bids will be opened at the Y. M. C. A. office tomorrow evening. Five local firms are in the race for the work. They are: Van Pool Brothers, Floyd Hurd, Emil Pautz, A. Summers and Son, J. A. Denning and Ford and Boon.

Any persons who have not pledged aid to the remodeling fund can do so, either by phoning to the Y. M. C. A. office or to Mr. F. F. Lewis.

Road Committee Meets: F. M. Roach, town of Harmony, and B. D. Treadway, Beloit, members of the county highway committee and Moore County Commissioner C. E. Moore, Magnolia, held a meeting at the county clerk's office today. Several representatives of highway machinery companies were present to go over various matters.

Stevenson's Criticism.

Robert Louis Stevenson once went to hear Charles Hall play the piano at the Queen's hall. After the performance Stevenson, in his black shirt, walked in silence out Regent street to Oxford circus. He stopped at Oxford circus and, in a slow, meditative voice, pronounced this excellent criticism on the English musician he had heard: "The manner of the elderly statesman at the piano was somewhat austere and chilling."

Error of Intellect.

Through the ordinary course of mortal failure and misfortune, in the career of nations no less than of men, the error of their intellect and the hardening of their hearts may be accurately measured by their denial of spiritual power.—Ruskin.

CUT THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Money and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Money and Tar Compound." A mean stuffy cold, with coarse wheezy breathing is just the kind that runs into bronchitis or pneumonia. Don't trifle with such serious conditions but take Foley's Money and Tar Compound promptly. Contains no opiates. Badger Drug Co.

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Edna Henry Styles were held yesterday afternoon from the Methodist church. Deceased would have been twenty seven years old the twenty-ninth of June. She leaves to mourn her loss, one sister, Evangeline, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henry of Beloit; her husband, William Styles, besides numerous other relatives and sorrowing friends here.

Mrs. Styles was a former student of the Evansville high school and was especially famed for her sweet soprano voice. The last few years had been spent in the study of music and she had been singing in churches in Chicago and Beloit.

The public extends its sympathy to the bereaved husband and parents.

The account of the reception held Saturday evening at S. Beuth's was somewhat mixed, so, as those present wish to express the good time enjoyed, another account might be in season. The evening was spent in card games and parlor games, light refreshments being served and a delightful time resulting for those present.

Those from out of town present at the funeral of the late Mrs. Styles were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henry of

RELIGIOUS LIBERALS MEET AT ROCHESTER

Unitarian, Universalist, Quaker and Jewish Liberals are Represented in Conference.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The National Federation of Religious Liberals and the Free Religious Association of America held a joint congress in Rochester today, and during the remainder of the week will hold a series of meetings in the Unitarian and other liberal churches of the city.

Numbered among the speakers who are here to take part are many eminent representatives of the Unitarian, Universalist and other liberal religious organizations, the Quaker and Jewish liberals. Wilbur of Philadelphia, Dr. Daniel Evans of Andover Seminary are among those who will be heard at the several sessions.

The general topics selected for discussion include the following: "The Contribution of the Churches of America Toward Religious and Civil Liberty," "Social Wrongs and Their Ethical Solution," "Industrial Strife and Economic Justice," "The Promotion of Sympathy and Good Will Between Orthodox and Liberal in Religion," and "The Incultation of Religion and Morality in Our Public Schools."

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—Stable relations, or drawing room etiquette in the presence of the dairy cow, has brought national attention through widely circulated advice to milkers given in the press last week by Malcolm H. Gardner of Delavan, Wis., a noted authority in the dairy industry. From all over the country he has received newspaper clippings and letters with suggestions, many of them amusing.

In a letter he says: "A Chicago newspaper illustration seemed to think that a small boy to hold a milk pail steadily while the cow attacked herself to a straw might help some, and that if the milker would not only take off his hat but also carry along a bouquet of flowers and a box of candy, the cow would appreciate the attention. Also he had the idea that the music box with certain soothing melodies might be a very considerable addition to the average stable. On the whole, while I expected to reach some hundreds of thousands of people, through the dairy and agricultural press, I did not expect to reach some millions of city readers."

Mr. Gardner claims that Secretary James Wilson claims to have originated the motto, "Speak to a cow as you would to a lady," but that an old Kenosha county dairyman was the real originator of the expression.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

MOUTHS.

DON'T you just enjoy seeing a nice looking middle-aged woman—a well-groomed, trim erect woman—who has not felt obliged to throw all pretensions to style and good grooming to the winds, just because she happens to have left the fiftieth milestone behind her?

And the other day I caught sight of an exceptionally fine example of this rare species—or rather, I thought I had.

She was sitting across from me in the trolley car, and at first I caught only fugitive glimpses of her between strap-hangers. She wore the trimmest of tailored suits and a simple but chic waist; a thoroughly stylish hat was placed at the right angle on her charmingly tufted gray hair. And then, just as I was saying to myself, "well that woman's husband and children must be proud of her," a group of strap-hangers moved on and gave me a full face view.

Whereupon I changed my mind. For the woman's face was completely marred by a very ugly mouth.

It was one of those tight, hard mouths that spoil the prettiest faces. It wasn't of an essentially ugly shape—in fact, it was probably very pretty once upon a time—but it had evidently been distorted into its present condition by the temperament of its owner.

And truly, that hard, repellent line across her face completely marred her face and indeed the whole effect of her otherwise charming appearance.

If you are any student of faces at all, you must surely have noticed how many of the faces you see in the trolley cars, in the streets, in the shops, in short, everywhere you go, are marred by ugly mouths.

I don't mean intrinsically homely mouths, but mouths made ugly by the character, habits and temperaments of their owners.

How many tight mouths, how many nervous mouths, how many discontented mouths, how many haughty mouths we see everywhere. When once in a while we catch a glimpse of a sweet, sensitive, beautiful mouth, it is like finding a wild flower in the cracks of a city pavement.

Have you noticed, too, how rare is a mouth with the corners turned up? There are at least ten straight, even mouths and ten others with mournfully drooping corners, to one with the perky, upward curve which means that the owner of that mouth has the priceless gift of happiness.

We make our mouths more than any other feature of our faces. Our lives write themselves out in the shape of the mouth and the lines about it with striking clearness. It doesn't seem as if even a child could fail to see the hardness of some mouths. Mouths advertise a man or woman's character as blazingly and blatantly as an electric sign.

What is your mouth saying about you?

Is it a charm or a deformity, an advertisement or a warning?

Look in the glass and see.

A FEW SOUFFLES.

Souffles may be prepared to serve as desserts or as entrees.

Cheese Souffle.—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and pour on gradually a pint of milk. Cook in a double boiler five minutes. Cook a little, then add the yolks of three eggs, beaten until thick, a half cup of grated cheese, a half teaspoonful of salt and the beaten whites folded in at the last. Bake in a buttered dish set in hot water. A cupful of corn and just cheese enough for a favor makes a souffle which will take the place of a vegetable at dinner.

Almond Souffle.—Chop a half cup of almonds, beat together the yolks of six eggs, salt and three-fourths of a cup of sugar. Add the chopped almonds, two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, some grated lemon rind and a dash of cinnamon. Mix well and fold in the beaten whites of six eggs. Bake in a buttered dish, set in water. Test by cutting into the center with a knife. If it comes out clean the souffle is done.

Lemon Souffle.—Beat the yolks of four eggs with three tablespoonfuls of sugar, a little lemon juice, some grated peel, four tablespoonfuls of flour, a little baking powder. Bake fold in the whites of the eggs. Bake in a dish of hot water.

Mocha Souffle.—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and pour over a fourth of a cup of cream and three-fourths of a cup of boiled coffee, a half cup of sugar, a fourth of a teaspoon of salt, four eggs and half a teaspoonful of vanilla.

Irritated by Domesticity.

SOMETIME after the press of the country rural life the story of a woman who left her husband and two small children because she was "irritated by domesticity." She had scarce a tithe of the irritations many women endure, because her husband was wealthy and she had servants and nurse-maids and a beautiful home. But even the restrictions the management of these imposed upon her, she could not endure. And so she left.

Her marriage was the culmination of a brief courtship on shipboard. The ocean and moonlight are, as everybody knows, two of Cupid's best allies. No doubt the romantic surroundings and the poetry and tales about love with which her mind was filled made her see marriage in a rose-colored light. It was some ideal, ecstatic state in which she would be wholly happy; and so she was swept off her feet and carried on a wave of emotion to the matrimonial altar.

But when she got down to the brass tacks of married life, to the planning of meals and the care of children, to bending her tastes and time to those of another, she found she was up against a very different proposition from the rose-colored dream of moonlit decks. And so she rebelled and said she couldn't endure it and quit.

For her action she was generally condemned. But is she not to be pitied rather than censured?

In the first place, is she not to be pitied for her ignorance in regard to the true meaning of happiness? Should not she and every other girl know exactly what married life means, what they will be called upon to do, what they may expect when yoked with another in the journey of life?

She built of dreams and imagination and poets' fancies, the future in which she was to live. And when she found reality an altogether different proposition, she could not endure the contrast. She is not the only woman who has faced this disillusionment and probably rebelled. But the others, most of them, have stuck to their posts.

And then again, is she not to be pitied that she is looking outside of herself for happiness? She thinks that now that she is rid of the irritations of domesticity, now that she is free to enjoy the pleasures she craves and the travel that is her hobby, that she will be happy.

But will she? Will she still not feel that unrest that drove her into marriage for happiness, and is now driving her out of it on the same endless quest?

For happiness is found only within. Some one has said that the City of Happiness is located in the State of Mind. And until she discovers within herself, in her understanding of life, contentment and satisfaction, she is liable to find just as many irritations in her freedom as she endured in the domestic state.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—A young man wants me to keep steady company with him. I have refused several times. How am I to let him know that I do not want to without hurting his feelings? (2)—When a boy compliments me on my looks, how should I answer him? (3)—Some time ago when I was out driving with a young man, he tried to put his arm around me. I told him I would never go with him again, but I have forgiven him and he has asked me to go with him again. Shall I go or not?

(1)—You cannot do more than keep on refusing him. He will get tired of asking. (2)—Thank him and try not to look self-conscious. Also, my dear, take the compliment with a grain of salt. (3)—If he has promised to be a gentleman, you might give him another trial; but if he does not keep his promise cut him from your list of friends.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—How can we develop our necks so the collarbones won't show? (2)—How can we remove little red bumps that come on our arms? (3)—How long should we use vaseline on our eyebrows to make them grow thick?

DOT AND DASH. (1)—Learn to breathe deep. Sing as much as you can. Massage the hollows gently with cocoa butter or a good skin food. (2)—Better see a doctor. (3)—Until you see an improvement.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 18. (1)—Is it too late to wear white shoes? (2)—My friend insists on me wearing white shoes. I want to please him, but want to dress properly. What would you do? (3)—When a boy and girl go buggy riding, is it proper to take the girl's hoodie dog? GRAY EYES. (1)—White shoes are worn on the street by quite young girls. They are wear permissible in the house. (2)—Always them in the house, but dress appropriately for the street. (3)—If the dog enjoys the ride and the boy doesn't object, take it along.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will a green silk dress trimmed in yellow be suitable for spring?

SNOWDROP. I'm afraid this would be rather "loud." A cream or white lace would be pretty for trimming.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—I am a girl of 20. Please tell me how to make a self-introduction. (2)—A young man says he loves me and wishes to keep company with me. I do not care for him. Please tell me what to do? (3)—What will make my hair thick and fluffy?

(1)—What will make the face and hands smooth and white? (2)—How can I overcome blushing? (3)—I become acquainted with a young man through a romance and the next evening he asks to accompany me to the opera. Would it be well for me to accept or not? EDNA B.

(1)—You do not introduce yourself to a man. To a lady, say "I am Miss E. and I wish to make your acquaintance. May I?"

(2)—Just tell him you don't want to. (3)—Rub vaseline into the scalp. Shampoo it with eggs once a week. Brush it thoroughly twice a day. Let it hang loose as much as possible.

(4)—Buttermilk or lemon juice will whiten. Use plenty of cold cream. (5)—Don't think about yourself. (6)—Better make sure that there's something to him besides romance.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Mustard Ointment. Here is a good recipe for home-made mustard ointment which I'm sure will be appreciated by mothers with large families, as then a jar goes such a small way.

Take three tablespoonfuls mutton tallow (pure home rendered) two tablespoonfuls goose grease, one tablespoonful camphor, two tablespoonfuls ammonia one teaspoonful mustard (oil or ground). If you use the mustard oil your salve will be as white as the best ointment, but the ground makes it a cream color.

Everybody knows how healing mutton tallow is and how penetrating the goose grease is, and as for the mustard, ammonia and camphor, they are good for all inward sprains and aches. The goose grease keeps the tallow from becoming too hard.

Hope this will help someone. (This will not blister.)

Things Worth Knowing. To Throw Top of Pie—Just before putting into oven, rub top of pie with tablespoonful sweet cream or milk. Makes pie a delicious brown.

Compound For Cleaning Any Fabric.—Evaporates quickly and leaves no disagreeable odor; especially good for cleaning coat collars.—Glycerine, half ounce; ether, two ounces; chloroform, 1½ ounces; benzine, 12 ounces.

Mucilage Cork.—Use piece of candle as stopper in glue or mucilage bottle after it has been opened; will not stick like an ordinary cork.

To Remove Burn From Cake.—It happened a few days ago that my cake burnt. I suppose this will happen to other housekeepers. While wondering what I could do, I took a potato grater and ran it over the burnt side. It was all off in a minute and nobody knew that my cake had been burnt.

Dandy Oyster Rolls.—Take four dinner rolls and cut off one end of each for a lid, scoop out the soft part, leaving crusts, which must be put into smoking hot fat and fried to a golden color, then drain and keep hot. Scald 15 oysters in their liquor, melt one heaping tablespoonful butter in small saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls flour, mix till smooth, add gradually the oyster liquor, stir till it boils, add sea-

Cured her—We cured our little son of eczema with Resinol. His legs were as raw as could be. He began with little pimples. He could not rest or sleep, the itching was so bad. We tried every remedy we could think of, but they did not seem to do him any good. After he suffered like that for about three months, we then began to wash him with Resinol Soap, and then used Resinol Ointment. They cured him in about two weeks, and he has never had any symptoms of eczema again. (Signed) Mrs. M. J. McCallum, Shenandoah, N.C.

DIMINISHED PROVISION OF TEETH.

An English scientist says that "coincident with the advance of man there has been a diminution in the provision of teeth. In the ape, the negro and the white man, brain and teeth are inversely proportional to efficiency." As more energy is appropriated to brain nutrition less can be utilized for digestion and the other physical functions, and aside from the influence of soft, cooked and concentrated foods in reducing the amount of vitality drawn to the teeth the appropriation of more vitality for intellectual living has tended to the deterioration of the teeth, much as less of life has been apportioned to reproduction. This means better care of the teeth, and conservation of energy otherwise. Probably three times as much energy is expended in digestion and elimination as is necessary under more intelligent nutrition, including dentition. This has been frequently emphasized. My own mental capacity has greatly increased since improving my dietary system.

RASH SPREAD TO ARMS AND BACK

Eruptions on Face, Itched and Burned, Festered, Skin Dry and Scaly. Sleep Out of Question, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

759 Roach Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.—"At first I noticed small eruptions on my face. The trouble began as a rash. It looked like red pimples. In a few days they spread to my arms and back. They itched and burned so badly that I scratched them and of course the result was blood and matter. The eruptions festered, broke, opened and dried up, leaving the skin dry and scaly. I spent many sleepless nights, my back, arms and face burning and itching; sleep was purely and simply out of the question. The trouble also caused disfigurement. My clothing irritated the breaking out.

"By this time I had used several well known remedies without success. The trouble continued. Then I began to use the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Within seven or eight days I noticed gratifying results. After receiving the excellent returns I purchased a full-sized cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in about eighteen or twenty days my cure was complete. I truthfully recommend Cuticura Soap and Ointment to any sufferer of skin diseases." (Signed) Miss Katherine McCallister, Jan. 12, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

UGH! HOW CHILDREN HATE CASTOR OIL

TO CLEAN THE LITTLE ONE'S STOMACH, LIVER AND WASTE—CLOGGED BOWELS GIVE GENTLE "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physic is over. We don't force the liver and 30 feet of bowels now. We coax them. We have no dreaded after effects. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their little stomachs and tender bowels are injured by them.

If your child is fretful, peevish, half sick, stomach sour, breath feverish and its little system full of cold; has diarrhoea, sore throat, stomach-ache; doesn't eat or rest well—remember—look at the tongue, if coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, then don't worry, because you surely will have a well, smiling child in a few hours.

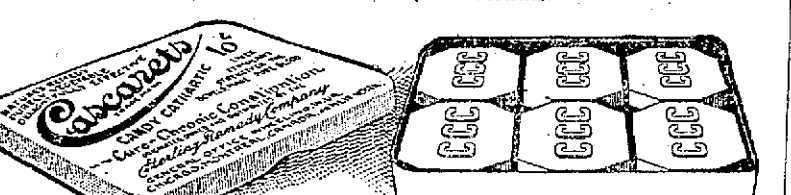

Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics simply cannot be harmful. It sweetens the stomach, makes the liver active and thoroughly cleanses the little one's waste-clogged bowels. In a few hours all sour bile, undigested fermenting food and constipated waste matter gently moves on and out of the system without griping or nausea. Directions for children of all ages, also for grown-ups, plainly printed on the package.

By all means get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. Accept nothing else.

FEEL BULLY! HEADACHE GONE, LIVER ACTIVE AND BOWELS CLEAN—"CASCARETS"

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish intestines—you always get the desired results with Cascarets.

They end the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach. They cleanse your liver and bowels of all the sour bile, foul gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months.

10 Cents. Never gripe or sicken.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MAGNOLIA MAN

Frederick W. Mau Respected Resident Of Magnolia Township, Dies After Illness With Cancer.

Magnolia, Jan. 28.—Frederick William Mau was born in Schoerbeck, Germany July 16 1866 and died at his home in Magnolia Wisconsin Jan. 23, aged 52 years, 6 months, and 7 days. In 1877 when seventeen years of age, Mr. Mau, accompanied by his brother, Charles and their grandfather, emigrated to the United States. He came west locating in Brooklyn, Green county, where he worked a number of years. From here he went to Albany, Wis., and remained until the spring of 1883, when he rented the Nichols farm. For about fourteen years he rented different farms in Green county and later purchased a place near Brodhead, where he lived six years. From there he moved to Magnolia, Wis., about ten years ago and purchased the farm where he lived the remainder of his life.

In the autumn of 1883 he was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Kant, also a native of Germany. This union was blessed with seven children, four of whom survive.

Mr. Mau was the oldest of a family of seven brothers. About a year ago the deceased was stricken with cancer, which caused him, at times intense suffering and finally brought about his death, although the best medical and surgical treatment was given him. He was united with the German Evangelical church at Brodhead Wis., in 1890. He was also a member of the Modern Woodman of America, at Magnolia.

Mr. Mau was a loving husband and father and kind hearted neighbor. He was an honest, upright and loyal citizen, a highly respected resident of Magnolia, and one who will be greatly missed by his sorrowing family and a host of friends. By industry and good management he became the owner of fine farm and had reached that condition in life where he could begin to enjoy the results of his hard labor.

He leaves to mourn, besides his widow, three daughters and one son. Mrs. G. H. Post of Brodhead, Wis., Mrs. Mau and the Misses Lizzie and Frances Mau, who reside at home. Also two little grandchildren, and four brothers, Charles of Britt, Iowa; Frank of Cokesville, Wyo.; Herman of Spring Valley, Wis., and Gustave R. of Bernardino, Calif., all of whom were present at the funeral except the last named.

The funeral was held at his late residence, Sunday morning, Jan. 26, at ten o'clock conducted by Rev. E. B. Arnold pastor of the Adventist church at Magnolia. Then the body was taken to Brodhead, Wis., where another service was held in the M. E. church at 2:00 p. m. conducted by A. H. Nickell, pastor of the German Evangelical church, assisted by Rev. E. B. Arnold and A. Dinsdale, pastor of the M. E. church. A large number of friends and neighbors gathered at both places to pay their last respects. The floral offerings were beautiful and profuse. A song service was furnished by a mixed quartet, consisting of Mrs. E. B. Arnold, Miss Lena Watson, John Troon and Ernest Setzer. The organist was Mrs. R. E. Acheson. The pall bearers were R. E. Acheson, A. Cole, W. B. Andrew, Robt. Frazer, Chas. Dohs and August Postle.

The members of the camp of the Modern Woodman of America at Brodhead formed in line as the funeral procession entered the city and marched to the church. After the funeral they marched to Greenwood cemetery where their last rites were conducted.

CARP SEINERS SPOIL LAKE FOR HUNTING

Sportsmen Will Petition State Game Warden to Discontinue Practice—Drives Duck From Haunts.

Legislation to prohibit the commercial seining of carp in Lake Koshkonong, and possibly in other inland Wisconsin lakes, will probably be enacted this winter as the result of petitions which are now being circulated by Janesville, Edgerton, Ft. Atkinson and Koshkonong sportsmen, and will be forwarded to the state game warden. The Carcajou Shooting club of this city did not take the initiative in the fight against carp seining, but is in full sympathy with it and will give it support. The prime mover is said to be the owner of considerable property on the lake shore. Before the seining of carp was begun he provided accommodations for scores of hunters during the open season, but since that time their numbers have dwindled almost to the vanishing point.

Carp seining is done during the fall duck hunting season and results in driving the ducks from the lake. The seiners start out about four o'clock in the morning with a tug towing several small boats. One end of a seine nearly a mile in length is secured to a post or tree on shore. The tug then swings out from shore and the seine is played out in a great semi-circle, the other end being fastened as was the first. This done the seine is slowly drawn to shore by means of a windlass. The entire seine is not pulled at once. Ropes radiate from its circumference, dividing it into sections, and the force of the windlass is exerted on the sections alternately until the seine with all its contents is drawn close upon shore. Men in rubber boots then step in among the fish, throw the carp into the boats, and the game fish back into the lake.

It is very apparent that operations of this character will scare the ducks away from their feeding grounds and discourage the hunters, but it is as true that the seining does not accomplish its professed object. The seines used have very coarse meshes. No carp under the weight of one and one-half pounds are taken. As the smaller ones are left for seed, as it were. The game fish taken might as well be taken as thrown back into the lake, for few of them survive after being rolled over and over in the mud and being crushed underneath tons of carp. They may swim around on their side for a few hours but in the morning they are found floating on the surface of the lake in large numbers.

As much as twenty tons of carp has been taken in a single haul. The profits of seining are known to be very large. The information was disclosed in a recent lawsuit between seiners that as much as $40,000 net profit had been made in a single short season at Lake Koshkonong. It is therefore not unnatural that many are anxious to obtain the privilege. The state first licensed the seiners as a means of securing the sportsmen were able to secure legislation prohibiting the practice. Another law, however, gave the state warden the right to remove rough fish from certain lakes according to his discretion. Under this statute the seiners who formerly operated under a license, resumed their work in the employ of the state, to whom they paid a percentage of the receipts from the sale of fish. The evils of the new system are no less flagrant than the old: the state is a party to the despoiling of the hunt, and fishing resources of Lake Koshkonong, and profiting directly by such despoliation. As Lake Koshkonong is the only lake readily accessible to residents of Rock and Jefferson counties who pay thousands of dollars as hunting licenses they feel that the state should bear and remedy their grievance.

Bowels Get Weak As Age Advances

The First Necessity is to Keep the Bowels Gently Open With a Mild Laxative Tonic.

Healthy old age is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the bowels that great care should be taken to see that they act regularly. The fact is that as age advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to prompt digestion.

Some help can be obtained by eating easily digested foods and by plenty of exercise, but this latter is impossible to most elderly people. One thing is certain, that a state of constipation should always be avoided as it is dangerous to life and health. The best plan is to take a mild laxative as often as is deemed necessary. But with equal certainty it is suggested that cathartics, purgatives, physics, salts and pills be avoided, as they do but temporary good and are so harsh as to be a shock to a delicate system.

A much better plan and one that thousands of elderly people are following, is to take a gentle laxative- tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts as nearly like nature as is possible. In fact, the tendency of this remedy is to strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles and so train them to act naturally again when medicines of all kinds can usually be dispensed with. This is the opinion of many people of different ages, among them Mr. O. P. Miller, Baroda, Mich., writes: "I am 86 years old and have been constipated for many years. Since receiving your sample bottle I have procured two 50c bottles and find that it is the best remedy I ever used and does just what People usually buy the fifty cent size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits they buy the dollar size, which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed, or money will be refunded. Any elderly person can follow these suggestions with safety and the assurance of good results.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Persons Answering Fraudulent

Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are any number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications

the advertisement is omitted.

All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasial advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.
